"SPLENDID" IS VERDICT OF THE GREAT AUDIENCE AT COMIC OPERA

"Up and Down Broadway" Is a Tremendous Hit at La Crosse Theater Last Evening

A CONSTELLATION OF STARS

Tuneful Music, Beautiful Girls, Wonderful Costumes and Striking Effects Features

CHORUS WORK IS SPLENDID

Finished Production Under the Direction of Mr. MacDonald Delights the Elite

Brilliant, splendid, showy, magnificent, superb, grand, sumptious, glorious, illustrious, signal, spirited, lively, animated, vivacious, sprightly, melodious, tuneful, harmoniously musical.

There they are. Take your choice.

No single word seems adequate to describe the beauty, the brilliancy, the animation and tunefulness and the great general success of "Up and Down Broadway" last night, so we resort to all the applicable synonyms which come to mind, nor does any one or all of them exaggerate the great praise due to Mr. Donald MacDonald and the stage full of beautiful young women and the young men who made the society comic opera the biggest success of several seasons in La Crosse.

It was in truth a society play, for the elite was out in force and the spacious theater was filled with gentlemen and handsomely gowned women, many of whom proudly watched sons or daughters add to the success of the play. A complete orchestra led by Prof. Urquhart Cawley with Miss Agnes McLinden at the piano handled the musical numbers in faultless style, and the delighted audience soon lost sight of the fact they were witnessing an amateur play, and not a professional performance.

All in all it seems too much of a constellation to undertake to mention individual stars. There was no participant from the leading roles to the smaller chorus part who did not perform gracefully, leaving no room for criticism.

The stage arrangement, electrical effects and scenery were splendidly and artistically combined, flowers being used in profusion in certain parts to create almost an impression of fairyland.

It is seldom, indeed, that such an array of wholesome grace and beauty is seen upon a stage, and anyone who doubted that La Crosse has pretty and vivacious girls needed no further convincing. To Mr. MacDonald an immense amount of credit is due for the expert manner in which he moulded nearly a hundred inexperienced girls and boys into a finished product in a few short weeks. The usual halt and hitch of the amateur performance was entirely missing, and every number moved with splendid precision and grace. The program was admirably proportioned and balanced, and there was not a single number which did not win a tumult of applause and from one to half a dozen encores.

Were we to try to mention stars, our astronomical vocabulary would be confined to Venus, and were we to delve into the charms of mythology for an adequate word we could not go beyond this goddess and Apollo.

The Prologue.

"Ye men and maidens here tonight
Pray cease your conversation,
And in our humble sort of way
We'll now present our little play
For your consideration.
A song, a dance, a little fun,
Must take the place of story,
Our aim is to amuse each one,
And, if you cry "Bravo! Well done!"
We'll ask no greater glory.
And as your interest is intense
Now let the play commence."

Dainty little Elsie Ott introduced the opera with the foregoing prologue, appearing before the curtain. And let no one believe that "Bravo, well done!" were the most of the comments after the final curtain. Could the young people who so generously displayed their talents and charms for charity's sake last night have heard the words of praise they would indeed have asked "no greater glory." To the most critical all of the numbers ranked high in comparison with the work of experts.

The Flower Song.

The Flower Song which opened the first act was sung by Mrs. Grace Mc-

POLICE SAY MOE WAS NOT ROBBED

Lost His Money After He Left Hotel Law, Says Chief John Webber This Afternoon

That Martin Moe of Onaloska never was robbed, but that he lost his wallet after leaving the Law hotel is the opinion expressed by Chief of Police John B. Webber regarding Mr. Moe's loss today.

"Katie and Lizzie," the two young ladies who contributed to the evening's enjoyment as well as James Enger, the whiskey agent, who helped Moe pass the evening were examined by the police and both Moe and the authorities are convinced today that they know nothing of the robbery. The two girls were taken to the station and underwent a very severe grilling at the hands of the authorities, but could give no information.

Moe claims that his money was taken from him at the Law hotel and is positive that he did not have it with him when he left. He said today that he is of the opinion that someone at the hotel has his money, and he was in conference with the district attorney yesterday afternoon with regard to taking out warrants for the arrest of the suspects.

When Moe was examined at the central police station he was found to have $92 in his possession, but this he claims was a separate sum which he carried for pocket money

HEROIC WORKMAN GIVES HIS LIFE

GENDIVE, Mont., Oct. 29.—Edward Olsen, a workman for Chicago contractors on a new church here, saved Annie Kozinski, a little school girl from death beneath a Northern Pacific freight train yesterday afternoon at the sacrifice of his own life.

Olsen rushed between the cars, grasped the girl and attempted to get out. The train knocked him to the ground and cut him in two at the hips. He died almost instantly.

The little girl's hand went under the wheels and was partly severed.

CLEVELAND'S MAYOR JUST MISSES BULLET

CLEVELAND, Oct. 29.—A man now in the custody of the police fired a bullet through the window of Weber's Superior avenue cafe this afternoon, narrowly missing Mayor Johnson who was seated at luncheon.

The man, who was booked under the name of Jos. F. Olinyck, declared at the police station that he did not fire at Mayor Johnson. He said that he had been refused a drink and thought to avenge himself in this manner. He is of middle age and familiarly known as a street news vender. Although great excitement prevailed in the cafe and on the street, Mayor Tom after he had seen the man arrested went into the dining room and resumed his luncheon.

The bullet missed the mayor by only three feet.

KEPPEL ADDRESSES THE ROADS MEETING

Assemblyman Urges That Machinery of Improvement Be Arranged Minus Complication

Arriving by automobile from Cashton late this afternoon, the state legislative committee on good roads met with La Crosse county good roads enthusiasts in the supervisors' room in the county court house at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Those present were Assemblyman Jones, chairman of the committee; Senator Donald, Assemblyman Lewellyngard, Chinook and Buslett. Senators Burke and Brown were absent.

In opening the meeting, Mr. Jones made a short speech. He said that everywhere the committee has found the people enthusiastic. "Everyone," he said, "wants better highways, and everywhere in the state there are poor roads."

Mr. Jones said that the committee has made an extensive tour of the state to ascertain the condition of the roads with a view of drafting a bill to be presented to the next legislature providing for state aid in the improvement of county highways.

How to distribute the state aid; what kind of a head to place over it; how much power to give this head; and where to place the residue of this power, Mr. Jones said, was the questions the comittee is now trying to answer.

The speaker told of the different methods pursued in other states. Some states, he said, have a regular road commission, other states have an ex-official commission, made up of the heads of various state institutions.

Mr. Jones said that the object of the committee's visit to LaCrosse was not to give advice but on the other hand to seek advice. He invited the opinion of members as to the form of road legislation to be enacted for Wisconsin at the next session of the legislature.

Supervisor V. S. Keppel of Onalaska was called upon and said that the proper solution could be gotten by a study of the methods pursued in other states, remodeled to suit the needs of Wisconsin.

The commission with the authority centered in one man, the speaker thought, would not be approved as much as were the authority distributed among a greater number, say three or more.

Mr. Keppel's idea of the apportionment of state aid is that this difficulty could be overcome by two apportionments, one according to mileage and the other according to already improved highways.

He said that in La Crosse county extensive improvements have been made. He suggested that the less complicated the machine is made the more efficient it will be and the more satisfactory to the taxpayer.

Mr. Keppel was closely questioned by Chairman Jones, and his suggestions were closely followed by members of the committee.

Mr. Keppel said that the state is inexperienced in the work at the present time and he would not be surprised to see it fail at the first attempt.

GRAND JURY TO COMPLETE WORK

Because many members of the Federal grand jury, now in session here are members of county boards, several of them being county chairmen, whose presence at the November meetings of the several boards is imperative, the Federal grand jury was not adjourned to Nov. 9 as planned but will complete its session next week.

This morning a recess was taken until tomorrow, when a meeting will be called and adjourned until next Monday, when the jurors hope to take up the remaining unfinished business.

WHITE SLAVE GANG IN LAW'S CLUTCH

Regular Traffic Between St. Louis and Chicago Uncovered; Money Paid for Country Girls

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 29.—A dozen girls said to have been taken from St. Louis to Chicago by agents of the white slave traffic will be brought to St. Louis, at the request of the police here, to push the crusade against the agents of the traffic. David Garfinkle, a saloon keeper here, was arrested on an indictment returned in Chicago charging him with a conspiracy against the public morals and he is being held until Gov. Deneen of Illinois and Gov. Hadley of Missouri, can be communicated with and extradition papers signed.

Clifford G. Roe, agent of the anti-white slave commission in Chicago who was here in connection with the Garfinkle arrest has gone to Chicago at the request of the police and will bring the girls here to aid the police in finding the agents of the traffis.

A sensational investigation is promised by the police who declare that the condition here will be shown to rival those discovered in the uncovering of the old White Chapel conditions by them Circuit Attorney Folk.

Police here say that of the dozen girls sent to Chicago six were innocent country girls, who were promised remunerative work. Two were waitresses.

Saloonkeeper Admits Guilt

Detective Bowler of Chicago, and Chief of Police Creecy of St. Louis, say that Garfinkle admitted to them that he took one girl to Chicago himself. He said he got $15 besides his expenses for the trip.

Garfinkle in an interview said today that he was promised immunity from punishment by Dick Tyler, now under indictment in Chicago.

"My boss, the Frenchman," Garfinkle says Tyler told him," is a big politician and eats at the tables of the highest officials in Chicago."

Garfinkle admits that he allowed Tyler to telegraph to Chicago for tickets and money, using his name, as well as allowing him to use his saloon here as headquarters. "Tyler came to work for me as a bartender six years ago," said Garfinkle "He was a green country boy from Harrisburg, Mo., and I put him to work washing glasses in a saloon I then had. When I closed the place two years later I laid him off and he got a job as street car conductor.

"A year later I employed him again for a few months. Then he quit and went to Chicago.

"About a year ago he came into my new saloon near the Union Station He had plenty of money and brought men and women with him who spent $15 a day in my place.

Made Easy Money

"One day he ran out of money and said to me that he would show me how to get easy money. He addressed a telegram to a Frenchman in Chicago, whose name I cannot remember and asked that $25 be wired him at once. It came within two hours. He did not tell me then what his pull was.

"I introduced a girl to him and she went with him to Chicago.

"I found out what business Dick was in nine months ago when I heard his wife beg him to be careful or he would get into the penitentiary. He laughed and boasted, 'My boss eats with the boss of Chicago.'

"He asked me to join him in the business, declaring it had the saloon business beat all hollow for easy money. I refused, saying I made all the money I wanted."

Garfinkle said after this Tyler continued to get letters and telephone calls at the saloon and that he and his friends gathered there and spent a good deal of money. Soon after, he said, Tyler left and went to Chicago.

DR. COOK FACES THE LIONS IN THE DEN

Barrill and Printz Secure Vote of Confidence at Cook Meeting in Their Own Town

HAMILTON, Mont., Oct. 29.—After a stormy session lasting till after midnight, a large meeting addressed by Frederick A. Cook, adopted a resolution expressing confidence in the veracity of Barrill and Printz, the guides who made affidavits that Cook did not climb Mount McKinley.

The meeting started with an address by Dr. Cook, in which he attacked his enemies for disputing his claims to having climbed Mount McKinley and declared he would prove they had spent money corruptly to obtain the affidavits against him.

Attorney Crutchfield, attorney for the guides, questioned Cook after his address and then the excitement broke forth. Crutchfield challenged Cook's statements. This brought on a discussion, the fellow townsmen of the guides taking sides.

J. H. Durston, editor of the Anaconda Standard, offered a resolution asking that the meeting declare a lack of faith on the part of the entire people of Montana in all matters about which Dr. Cook made claims.

Senator Jos. M. Dixon, of Montana, took the floor and urged that fair play be accorded all parties to the controversy. Neither those who were opposed to Dr. Cook nor his friends would accept the Durston resolution and it was withdrawn by its author.

Edwin M. Barrill was called upon and taking the platform declared that Dr. Cook's statements regarding the Mount McKinley affair were incorrect. Dr. Cook replied by asserting to Barrill's face that the latter's statements were false.

The excitement at this point was intense. Barrill answered by demanding to know why Cook did not make an affidavit to the effect that he had scaled Mount McKinley.

The challenge had no sooner been issued than it was met by the doctor and this affidavit was made by the explorer on the platform in the presence of the audience in which he declared, he ascended Mount McKinley, that Barrill was with him at the time and that the records of his ascent were left on the summit of the peak.

The dispute waxed warmer, Barrill's attorney and friends denouncing Cook's statements, while friends of the doctor and the others contended for fair play.

Attorney Wagner then presented this resolution which was carried:

"We, the people of Hamilton and Ravallo county assembled, after patiently listening to the charges, and countercharges exchanged by the parties to the Mount McKinley controversy do declare our firm belief in the veracity of Edwin N. Barrill and Frederick Printz."

After the meeting, Dr. Cook said he did not care to discuss the result at present.

EKERN NAILS ONE MORE FALSEHOOD

Former Speaker Declares He Told No One McGovern was Strongest Candidate and Don't Think So

In an attempt to evade indictment for deliberate misrepresentation in having published a false statement, so branded by Mr. Herman Ekern, that he came here recently as an emissary of Senator La Follette to "pull Morris off", a local newspaper last night declared that Mr. Ekern had said he believed Mr. McGovern a stronger gubernatorial candidate than Senator Morris, and that its conclusion that he was here to get the senator out of the way was founded upon that alleged utterance.

Today Mr. Ekern left the courthouse at Whitehall, where he was in the midst of the trial of a law suit, to telephone The Tribune as follows:

"You may say for me in the shortest and most forcible terms that I DID NOT SAY TO ANYONE THAT I REGARD MR. M'GOVERN AS THE STRONGEST CANDIDATE, AND THAT I HOLD NO SUCH OPINION."

GERMAN KILLS SELF AT ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 29.—August Baer, for two years legally dead in Germany, killed himself in St. Louis today. It is believed he ended his life because he had failed to prove to the German courts his legal existence.

Baer was 70 and was found dying on a bed in his room from carbolic acid poisoning. He formerly lived in Saxony, where he had $26,000 on deposit which he was allowing to accumulate. His sister, not having heard from him in years, decided that he was dead and went into court two years ago to recover the money as his heir.

The courts pronounced him dead and awarded the money to her.

Baer heard of it a year ago and went to Germany to prove that he was alive. He was recognized by his sister but the courts refused to admit he was a living man. His sister agreed to pay to him $520 a year as long as he lived. He is said to have brooded over the matter.

PRINCE ITO'S ASSASSIN IS PLACED ON TRIAL

TOKIO, Oct. 29.—The assassin of Prince Hirobumi Ito will be tried for his crime at Port Arthur. The Japanese chief prosecutor in Korea has gone to Port Arthur from Seoul and will conduct the case.

It is believed that the prince's slayer was a tool of a Korean anti-Japanese association called the Pyong Yang, and it is hoped that the prosecutor will be able to uncover the details of the plot which they are sure existed.

THE PRESIDENT'S BOAT HAS BOILER EXPLOSION TODAY

Railroad Official Wires Offer of Special Train to Carry All the River Delegates

JOKE ON THE MISSISSIPPI

Men Unfriendly to Improvement Plan Point to Failure as Evidence of Futility of Scheme

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 29.—A report has been received here from Natchez, that one of the boilers on the steamer Oleander, President Taft's flagship, had been blown out and that it would be necessary to tow the boat to New Orleans. President J. A. Harahan of the Illinois Central, today wired to Secretary of War Dickinson, an offer of the use of a special train to carry the entire presidential party from Baton Rouge to New Orleans. The special will be rushed to the Louisiana capital if the offer is accepted. All the vessels are strung along the river materially behind schedule time.

NATCHEZ, Miss., Oct. 29.—Three hours behind the schedule, the Oleander, bearing President Taft arrived here today and the program for the president's entertainment began.

The biggest part of the delay in the journey from Vicksburg was caused in the Vicksburg harbor where the other steamers in the fleet blocked the way of the Oleander and for two hours tugs puffed and grunted as they tried to shove them out of the way of the president's boat.

Members of the party, notably government engineering officers, are laughing in their sleeves at the failure of the cruise, claiming that it is the best answer to those who say it will pay to spend millions on the river. Friends of improvement reply that the incident emphasizes the need of an improved channel and of suitable steamboats.

The steamers violated the rules of the cruise when they entered the channel at Vicksburg and while the tugs tried to straighten matters out, passengers aboard the boats listened to a dispute between the pilots that reminded old rivermen of the days when "pilots were kings."

Everyone blamed everyone else for the mix up and a sprinkling of old fashioned river language enlivened the tangle.

Just after leaving Vicksburg this morning the Steamer Alton attempted to nose the Erastus Wells out of her place as second in line. The Wells won the place by beating the others down the river after the free for all orders were given. For a time it looked as though the Wells and the Alton, and possibly the Oleander, too, would be drawn into a collision. Finally Tillman compelled the Alton to take third place.

BRYAN NOT TO BE NEXT CANDIDATE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 29.—"I do not believe Bryan will be the next democratic candidate for the presidency. While no one is authorized to speak for Mr. Bryan, I think that I am warranted in saying this," today declared Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Of the three vital institutions of a city's life and progress—the library the school, and the church—the library, with its ever open door, and its university of books, has been the last to meet the appreciation of civic support.

If La Crosse were judged by its commercial and manufacturing interests it would not rank high in a list of cities of its size but when, to its natural beauty and the wealth and charms of its homes, there is added the churches with their associate institutions, the schools with their noble buildings and splendid equipments, and now, lastly, its fine public library, the city we think will rank much above the average.

The opening of the enlarged and handsome building which graces Main street is a very valuable asset to our city. Its well furnished and attractive reading rooms and reference library, its unusually interesting children's department, and its 18,000 volumes arranged in such order and convenience that they are easily accessible to all; these are among the features that make this library one of the very best in the state.

The history of this institution is in the hands of our citizens, in the form of a souvenir booklet which the directors prepared for the citizens at the formal opening this week.

On inquiry we may learn of the simple and perfect ready reference card-catalogue, through the medium of which any one of the 18,000 volumes may be easily found, by subject, or name of author. We shall meet with the utmost courtesy and attention from the obliging librarian and her staff of assistants.

It marks the liberal spirit of our citizens that $133,000 has been donated for this building and its library of books, including the $50,000 bequest of Gov. Washburn which made the project possible.

The board upon whom rests the responsibility of this institution now appeals for an increased appropriation, making the annual amount not less than $6,000. This, with the library's income of $2.800, would enable the board, not only to maintain its present efficiency, but to gradually add to the better equipment of the library with up-to-date books.

Already the need of this is deeply felt. The addition to our educational interests of the magnificent normal school and the attractiveness of the library itself have added so much to the importance and demand upon the supply of books that it is felt that some of the sections of the library need instant additions and better supply.

Considered in the relative importance of this institution it would appear that the call for the sum asked for from the city's treasury is one that should meet with hearty support of the people. No institution is so intimately and so constantly connected with the life of the whole people. Its door is open to all without regard to creed or color and it is as free to the child of the poorest citizen as to the wealthiest. And none of us are independent of it, if we really care for the quickening and sustaining of our intellectual life. Indeed the citizen who has a library of his own at home, is the most likely to discover the need of other books not to be found in his book case.

As to our schools it is safe to say that a ready access to a good library will add much to the value of school studies. Somebody has said that "supplementary reading, especially in the lower grades, is worth all the rest of the school work." Let the tax payer consider that in the light of economy. To double the product of our school system at so small a cost is in the very highest degree true economy.

When life in the home is at stake no amount of cost within the possible reach of the family is considered. The life and progress of a community is more than its wealth.

Let the citizen further consider the value of the library as furnishing—education for adults who have not other opportunities—materials for teachers, ministers, journalists, authors, physicians—books and periodicals for technical instruction to mechanics and others—counter attractions for youth against the barroom and other evil associations.

With all these advantages in view we must vote the public library an invaluable institution.

THEIR DEVIOUS WAYS

The dishonesty that impels newspapers to publish false stories putting a citizen in a false light, and then to "roast" the alleged culprit with righteous indignation is not particularly dangerous because it is seldom deceptive, but it is small and mean and evidences an anaemic soul.

Take the story told here Monday night that Herman Ekern had seen Senator Thomas Morris and it was "understood" he tried to have "Tom" withdraw from the governorship race. Then it was sent to the Milwaukee standpat papers, the inference of the local publication being made more positive. Of course, in the meantime, all the smaller papers throughout the state would copy, and the impression that Tom Morris was being pulled out of the race would be spread.

It didn't matter that Mr. Ekern promptly denied the story, and emphatically declared he had urged the senator to stay in the fight and that he was for him and believed he would win. The Milwaukee standpat papers published this statement with a grain of salt between the lines, leaving prominently in the article doubt of the truth of what Mr. Ekern said.

Now there was not the slightest foundation for the original story. It was framed up for a purpose. It was dishonest. Everybody who is conversant with politics here knows that Mr. Ekern is staunchly for Morris. They know that Senator La Follette would not use his influence to have Morris withdraw. Had information on the subject been sought, or wanted, Ekern, C. H. Rawlinson, Otto Bosshard, J. E. McConnell, Andy Thompson, Ed Lyons, or any of them, would have been interviewed. But the paper did not want the truth; it wanted to publish a false story for a dishonest purpose. And it did so. That is what newspapers must do in order to make good for their drag at the Stephenson bar'l.

Let it be understood, as has been said before, that no prominent progressive leader is trying to "pull Morris out," (they are otherwise engaged) and that Senator Morris will decide not to become a candidate only as the result of his elimination by a representative conference of progressives.

THAT DOUBLE CHIN

Every woman who is fat, and especially every woman (or man) who has a hog-like double chin, will welcome this news paragraph. Your night masks and sticking plaster strips and strokings are at an end. A method of reducing double chins (also fat abdomens and hips, shoulders, ankles and neck), that really does reduce them, has been found.

And would you believe it, it is nothing more than a simple, harmless receipt that any druggist will fill for you, viz: ½ oz. Marmola, ½ oz. Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic and 3½ oz. Peppermint Water, a teaspoonful of which after each meal and at bedtime will take off up to a pound of fat a day. Try it—it is good for the stomach—strengthens that organ—so it turns the food into energy, bones, muscles, as it should, instead of into fat, as yours is doing now after each meal. Eat what you wish; drop exercising; be lazy even: this mixture will still trim up your figure. And it will do it evenly, too, without causing wrinkles; removing the soggy fat, such as double chins and stout abdomens are made of, first.

Wireless Cure For Rheumatism

Electric Current From Electropodes Proves an Astonishing Remedy for Rheumatism and Other Diseases

Now Within Reach of Every Sufferer

You hear no click, you feel no current, yet with increasing power a gentle healing, soothing, restoring current is sent into every fibre, nerve, vessel and organ of the body by means of a remarkable new discovery called Electropodes.

Proofs of the results of Electropodes, in cases of rheumatism especially, and of nervous afflictions and organic diseases, have caused a transformation in scientific theories. Electropodes are different from any other electric appliance, since they create no current except while they are actually in service. The current generated has been found to have an astonishing effect on blood impurities and the kidneys, thus being a quick remedy for rheumatism, as well as lumbago, back pains, kidney troubles, stomach and liver complaints, nervous prostration, weak nerves, headaches and weak heart.

Electropodes in appearance are peculiar metallic insoles so placed in the heels and arch of the shoes as to be unnoticeable to the wearer. They never cause discomfort. No medicines or temporary drug stimulants are used or needed. Right from the start, the system undergoes complete, healthy, change by means of this electropodic current. So remarkable are the results of these Electropodes that they are now being sold under a legal binding signed contract with each purchaser to give quick relief and entire satisfaction. They are sold now at all drug stores at only $1.00 a pair and the druggist signs a contract that if they are not absolutely satisfied with the results of Electropodes at the end of a full 30 days, your money will be refunded.

Thus every man and woman can now test the wonders of Electropodes without risk. If your druggist does not have Electropodes on hand, we suggest that you send $1.00 to The Electropode company, Suite 17, Holland block, Lima Ohio, and you will get a pair of Electropodes by return mail, together with our signed contract, binding themselves to satisfy you before 30 days are over, or positively refund your money. Say whether for lady or gentleman. Get a pair of Electropodes today and get rid of rheumatism or other troubles at once.

Senor Azcarragna, Who May Become Prime Minister of Spain

MADRID, Spain.—The execution of Professor Ferrer and the troubles arising from this, are requiring drastic action on the part of King Alfonso. It is reported a serious quarrel has taken place between him and Prime Minister Maura. Maura has refused to resign and the king is now taking steps pointing to his removal. Should Prime Minister Maura be sacrificed to appease popular antagonism to the Spanish government Senor Azcarragna will be named in his place. In fact the uproar is likely to overthrow the entire Spanish cabinet.

Mind Over Matter

"Much may be done," said the Acute Observer, "by an authoritive voice. Now, if a man says to a dog, 'Come here!' with a note of absolute authority in his voice, the dog comes immediately."

"Yes," said the traveler, "I've noticed it. And it is especially marked in oriental peoples. Why, when I was in Khalisandjharo, I heard a man say, with that authoritative note in his tone, 'Oh, king, live forever' and immediately the king lived forever."—Carolyn Wells, in Success Magzine.

SPOTLIGHTS

"Little Johnny Jones" Tonight

After having been presented in all the leading cities the past season including an engagement covering a period of six months in New York, several weeks in Boston, four weeks in Philadelphia and over four months in Chicago, "Little Johnny Jones" will be presented in this city at the La Crosse theater tonight. The engagement promises to be the most notable of the season, for no musical production presented last year scored so emphatically as this product of Mr. George M. Cohan's pen. "Little Johnny Jones" has been highly praised by the critics everywhere who write in glowing terms of its originality in construction and speak in the highest praise of its captivating and catchy music, of which there are twenty-two numbers.

SATURDAY SHOW

One of the most striking novelties of the season is promised for "Commencement Days," the comedy of college life by Virginia Frame and Margaret Mayo, which will be the attraction at the La Crosse Theater for two performances, Saturday, Oct. 30. Local theater goers are already familiar with plays dealing with boy college life, but "Commencement Days" is exceptional in that it is the only one whose interest revolves about a girl's college.

It is difficult to classify "Commencement Days." While the authors call it "a play of college girl life in three acts," several musical numbers are developed during the action of the play, affording Frederick V. Bowers, who is featured, a great chance to display his vocal abilities. Despite the music it has a dramatic story that is simple, direct, convincing and consistent, which is something that cannot be said of the ordinary musical comedy.

Seventy people appear on the stage, of whom the major portion are girls.

AT THE BIJOU

Patrons of the Bijou are offered another bill of high class vaudeville acts this week. The program is always diversified enough to please the most fastidious.

The first act on the bill Von Gofre offers a high class contortion and juggling act. Von Gofre was the first contortionist to introduce the famous mouth equilibristic contortion act on a revolving machine. Miss Cotrely introduces new juggling feats daily. This is a very clever team and scores heavily at each performance.

By request the illustrated song: "Games of our Childhood doys" was held over another week and which Myer Levi handles very cleverly.

Mrs. Doherty's troupe of fifteen snow-white poodles brightens the third place on the bill and these dogs weighing all the way from 2 1-2 to 12 lbs. are very cleverly trained. The two couple waltz finish by the dogs never fails to bring down the house as these cleverly trained canines never miss a cue or trick. They must be seen to be appreciated.

Miss Clarissa Rose, the girl with the cello, is an artist with a true knowledge of her instrument. Her beautiful stage appearance and her clever rendition of several difficult compositions, makes her a feast for the eye, as well as the ear. For an encore she played "My old Kentucky Home" playing both first and second on her cello. She is one of the cleverest musicians heard at the Bijou for some time.

The feature act this week, Matthews and Bannon, in Edward Gallagher's military travesty, The Battle of too soon, put on one of the funniest travesty acts ever seen at this theater. John Matthews as Gen. Mulberry, U. S. A., and Careless Casey, his aide John Bannon, look every inch the characters they play, and the finale of the sketch, when one dies too soon and the other too late finds the audience still laughing heartily.

Two subjects in pictures closed the show.

A woman's idea of a tactful man is one who is able to increase the admiration she has for herself.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

The Bitter Sweet

She was dainty and petite,
And she trotted down the street
In a manner
That was fetching
And particularly sweet;
But she gave a little pat
And I know that
She was hoping
That her hair concealed her rat.

She was simple and demure,
She was sweet and nice and pure,
But she had her
Little worries,
I am positively sure!
For I saw her pout and frown
As she fumbled at her gown—
Then I knew that
She was fearful
Of her petty slipping down!

O! this maiden was a dream.
And her eyes were all agleam,
With the joy of
Life and living—
And her cheeks were rich as cream!
But at that, alas, alack!
I observed she had a knack
Of expressing
Anxious moments
With the buttons on her back!

Oh ye gods that guard a maid,
Ye are tyros at your trade!
Why do you per-
Mit a maiden
To be constantly afraid?
They are worried everyone—
Every girl beneath the sun
Must forever
Tremble, fearing
That some thing may come undone!
—St. Paul Dispatch.

Sailor's Parson a Wit

The late Thomas Bone, "the sailors' missionary," was the soul of kindness, but he had keen wit and a ready tongue., too. An instance given in his recently published life is the following:

"His work was not without its humorous side. Among the new men there were always some who sought a little amusement at his exuense, but they reckoned without their host. His kindly manner never changed. The smile never left his face. There was no venom in the retort, but it seldom failed to silence the interrupter. The laugh raised at his expense made it quite certain that no second attempt would be made.

"Seeing him approaching one day, one of the group of sailors announced his intention of having some fun. He stepped forward and removed his hat, revealing a perfectly smooth crown, and asked:

"'Can you tell me why my head is so bald, while my companions have plenty of hair?'

"'I don't know,' was the smiling reply, 'unless the reason given me the other day by a farmer would apply, that an empty barn is not worth shingling.'"—Rochester Herald.

A Mistaken Cure

"Jennie!" yelled the composer.

"Yes, dear," called back the gentle wife.

"Why in thunder don't you keep that kid quiet? What ails it?"

"I can't think, dear. I'm singing one of your lullabies to the poor little darling."—Lippincott's.

Equal to The Occasion

A young couple entered a railway carriage and were immediately put down as a bridal pair. But they were remarkably selfpossessed, and behaved with such sangfroid that the other passengers began to doubt.

As the train moved out the young man rose to take off his overcoat, and a shower of rice fell out. The passengers smiled broadly.

But even that did not affect the youth, who also smiled, and, turning to his partner, remarked, audibly:

"By Jove, May! I've stolen the bridgegroom's overcoat'" — Boston Herald.

Realism

During one of his presidential trips, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by Secretary Olney, arrived at a town in a heavy storm, and they were driven from the station with hailstones rattling on the roof of their carriage. A brass band, undismayed by the weather, bravely stuck to its post and played the welcoming airs.

"That is the most realistic music I have ever heard," remarked Mr. Cleveland.

"What are they playing?" asked the secretary of state.

"'Hail to the chief,' with real hail."—Success Magazine.

Practical Politics

A political office in a small town in Iowa was vacant. The office paid $250 a year, and there was keen competition for it. The Democratic candidate, Ezekiel Hicks, was a shrewd old fellow, and a neat campaign fund was turned over to him. To the astonishment of all, however, he was defeated.

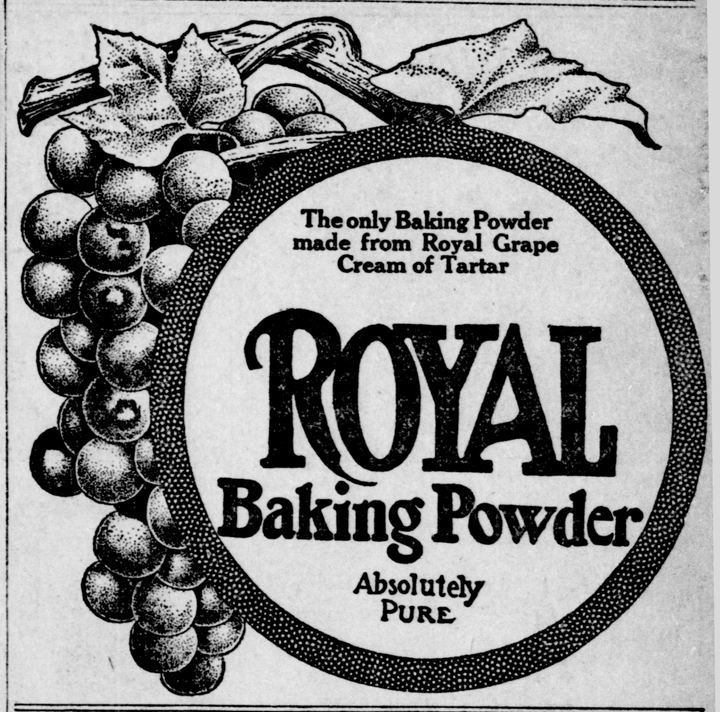

"I can't account for it," said one of the Democratic leaders gloomily. "With that money, we should have won. How did you lay it out, Ezekiel?"

"Well," said Ezekiel, slowly, pulling his whiskers, "yer see, that office only pays $250 a year salary, an' I didn't see no sense in payin' $900 out to get the office, so I just bought me a little truck farm instead."—Lippincott's.

"But he didn't keep me waiting! I was sick in bed with a sore throat, and mama wouldn't let me go; but I thought it was very careless and taking too much for granted for him to think he could come poking along any time he pleased, so I ended everything."

It would have interested Ardmore to know the total of Miss Dangerfield's engagements, but the time did not seem propitious for such inquiries; and, moreover, his awe of her as a young person of great determination and force of character increased. She spoke of employing the armed forces of the state as though playing with the militia were a cheerful pastime, like horseback riding or tennis. His heart sank as he foresaw the possibility of the gallant Gillingwater coming out of the Appleweight affair with flying colors, a hero knighted on the field for valor. The remembrance of Gillingwater receiving the salutes of the militia and riding off to the wars to the beat of drums had deprived Ardmore of sleep all night.

"Well, there's the map and there's that insulting telegram; what are you going to do about it?" asked Jerry.

She seemed to be honestly inviting suggestions, and the very thought of this affected him like wine. He deliberated for several minutes, while she watched him. A delicious country quiet lay upon the old state house; in the tranquil park outside the birds whistled their high disdain of law and precedent. It was no small thing to be identified with a great undertaking like this, with the finest girl in the world; and he could not help thinking of the joy of telling Griswold, the sober professor and sedate lawyer, of this adventure when it should be happily concluded. Never again should Grissy taunt him with his supineness before the open door of opportunity!

"A governor," he began, "is always a dignified person who doesn't bother his head about lyittle things like this unless everybody else has gone to sleep. Now, who's the chief of police in a county like Dilwell—what do you call him."

"Do you mean the sheriff, Mr. Ardmore?"

"Certainly. Now, give me those telegraph blanks, and I'll drop him a few lines to let him know that the government at Raleigh still lives."

It is in the telegram alone that we Americans aproapch style. Our great commanders did much to form it; our business strategists took the key from them. "I propose to fight it out on this line, if it takes all summer" is not more admirable than "Cancel order our number six hunber six hundred and eighteen," or "Have drawn at sight." Through the most familiar and commonplace apparatus clicks and ticks the great American epic in phrases concise, unequivocal and apt. Von Moltke, roused at night with news of war, merely waved his hand to the long-prepared orders in his chiffonier and went to sleep again; but the great Prussian had his counterpart in the American magnate who ties up a railroad by telegraph over his after-dinner coffee. Telegrams were, however, with Mr. Thomas Ardmore, something more than a form of communication or a mere literary exercise. Letter-writing seemed to him the most formidable of human undertakings, but with a pad of telegraph blanks under his hand his spirit soared free. All untrammeled by the horror of the day tariff, whose steep slopes have wrought so much confusion and error among the economical, he gave to the wires and the wireless what he never would have confided to a stamp. He wrote and submitted to Miss Jerry Dangerfield the following:

"To the Sheriff of Dilwell County,
"Kildare, N. C.:

"What is this I hear about your inability to catch Appleweight and the rest of his bunch? Your inattention to your duties is a matter of common scandal, and if you don't get anxious pretty soon I shall remove you from your job and then some. I shall be down soon to see whether you are pitching quoits at the blacksmith shop or fishing for lobsters in Raccoon Creek instead of attending to your knitting. Your conduct has annoyed me until I am something more than vexed by your behavior. The eyes of the great North State are upon you. Wire me at length just what you propose doing or not doing in this matter.

"WILLIAM DANGERFIELD,
"Governor of North Carolina."

"What do you think of that?' he asked, his pride falling as she scanned the paper carefully.

"Isn't it pretty expensive?" Jerry inquired, counting the words to ten and then roughly computing the cost.

"I'll take care of that, Miss Dangerfield. What I want to know is whether you think that will make the sheriff sit up."

"Well, here's what father sent him only about a week ago. I found it in his private letter book, and it's marked confidential in red ink."

She read:

"'Act cautiously in Appleweight case. Indictment by grand jury is undoubtedly faulty, and Foster threatens trouble in case parties are arrested.'

"And there's more like that! Papa never intended to do anything, that's as plain as daylight. Mr. Foster, the treasurer, comes from that county. He thought papa was going to have to do something, so he's holding back the payment of the state bonds just to frighten papa. You see, the state owes the Bronx Loan and Trust Company that two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and if it isn't paid June first the state will be everlastingly disgraced."

"Oh, yes; I'd forgotten about that."

"I don't see how you could forget about it. That must be almost as much money as there is in the world, Mr. Ardmore."

"We've got to raise it, anyhow, even if we go to the pawnshop. I pawned my watch once when I was in college and Billings—he was my guardian—had shut me off. Grissy—he's my friend—Grissy says pawnbroking is only a more vulgar form of banking. There was a fellow in my class at college who pawned his pawn ticket to get money to pay his laundress, and then gave the new ticket to a poor blind man. He's a big man in Wall Street—has a real genius for finance they say. But please don't worry about this rascal Foster. We'll put some dignity into the state's credit when the time comes."

"I think your telegram to the sheriff is all right," said Jerry, reading it again. "If you'll go to the door and whistle for the messenger we'll get it off. I'll sign it with the rubber stamp. Papa hardly ever signs anything himself; he says if you don't sign documents yourself you can always repudiate them afterward, and papa's given prayerful thought to all such things."

Ardmore addressed himself once more to the map. It was clear that the Appleweight gang was powerful enough to topple great states upon their foundations. It had, to Ardmore's own knowledge, driven a governor into exile, and through that wretched Foster, who was their friend, the credit of the state was gravely menaced. The possibilities of the game fascinated Ardmore. He was eager for action on the scene of this usurpation and defiance.

PICTURES SHOW COON THE BETTER FIGHTER

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 26.—That the Johnson-Ketchel fight was no fake and that Ketchel took an awful beating before he succumbed to the blows of the black man, was the concensus of opinion among Chicago fight critics yesterday after they had viewed the moving pictures of the contest now on exhibition here. The pictures also show clearly that while Ketchel fought a game battle through out he was clearly outclassed at all stages.

The punch by Ketchel which eye witnesses declare nearly put Johnson down and out is also shown in the pictures, but it is plain to see that the blow which has mown down so many middleweights was delivered too late and that Ketchel had lost his steam.

THE HURRY OF THE WEST PRODUCTIVE

Seattle a Panorama of Stupendous Enterprises and Achievements of a Daring People

SPECULATION HABIT OF ALL

Fever to Invest in Lands Is Universal—City Greater Show than Alaska-Yukon Exposition

(By Staff Correspondent.)

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 28.—Now that the great Alaska-Yukon exposition has closed its doors with a day of frolic and night of red fire, and after the feeling of regret at its magnificent passing has subsided, calm reflection corroborates the opinion expressed previously in these letters that Seattle as a city is more wonderful than was the exposition as a fair.

The vim and dash of western enterprise was never more aptly illustrated than it is by conditions in this city. So swiftly and surely do these westerners go about doing things, so positive is the assurance with which they attempt colossal undertakings that life here is a constant panorama of gigantic enterprises followed by achievement so swift that the effort is scarcely realized.

One of the great projects now under way is the construction of a canal leading from the Sound through Salmon Bay into Lake Union, thence through Union Bay into Lake Washington. This will enable sea-going vessels to enter fresh water by means of the canal and its locks. One of the many advantages of this will be the natural clearing of vessels of their barnacles by the action of fresh water.

Speculation a Fever

One cannot remain here long and not catch the speculation fever. Aside from the usual investor—the man with money to invest—there are very few teachers in the public schools, clerks, preachers or laboring people, who do not own or who are not buying land somewhere. It may be a piece of land for fruit, timber land, a bit of beach to resell for a summer cottage, or a small sum down and perhaps $25 per month on a nice cottage for a home. Hundreds of these are sold this way. In one instance about a dozen teachers clubbed together and bought a block in one of the new sections, costing about $250 a lot. In a very few months, likely, two years at the most, these lots will sell for at least $1,000 each. Four years ago a five acre tract could have been bought on the east side of Lake Washington for $350. Today it would sell for an average of $1,000 per lot. This is still an extreme suburb. Three years ago the Y. W. C. A. bought an eighteen acre beach front on Bainbridge Island for $5,400, and today they decline to sell it for $30,000. I believe the record price per front foot down town is between $7,000 and $8,000, while in Denver, a fair city with which to compare, being nearly as large and quite progressive, the record price is not above $2,500 per front foot.

Look to Good Views

One of the chief things that determine the value of a lot here is the view. Lake Union separates the two most aristocratic sections, Capital Hill and Queen Anne Hill, with Lake Washington on the other side of Capital Hill and a magnificent view of Puget Sound for Queen Anne. The Madrona Park section, bordering on Lake Washington, is a newer location for the better homes. The writer sits in one of the new cottages in a new section, beautifully located as to the view, three hundred feet above Green Lake, with the lake and Woodland Park in front. Beyond are miles of twinkling lights gleaming along the sky-line. Beyond, at either side, on a clear day may be seen to the right, the magnificent snow capped Olympics, perhaps one hundred miles away; to the left beautiful Mt. Ranier. This is too splendid a view to be seen every day; one is not allowed to become satiated, unappreciative, for it is only on occasional days that these may be seen. In the winter they are glorious on clear days, but most people know how many rainy, misty, moisty days there are. In the fall it is the haze, fogs and forest fire smoke that almost continually obscures them. Usually for a time in the spring and early summer they may be enjoyed continually.

No Wild West Here

Some of the wild and woolly tales of the first years of the Klondike fever still cling to Seattle in the minds of the average easterner. Rex. Beach's stories of the docks do not tend to lessen the impression. This impression seems to the visitor to be erroneous. Either the city is well policed or the newspapers well censored, for there is less news of scandal, murder and robbery published in Seattle papers than in the average large city. The number of saloons is limited by a charter amendment. The city of 289,000 people has about 285 saloons, while Denver with a less number of people has 2,000 saloons. This number of saloons cannot be increased until the city reaches 500,000 in population.

The Mountain Climbers

Corresponding to the foreign "Alpine clubs," the "Appalachians" of the eastern United States, etc., are three prominent clubs in the west—the "Sierras," mostly California people; the "Mazamas," of Oregon, and the "Mountaineers" of Washington. The Mountaineers are but three years old. The first year they climbed the Olympics, the second Mt. Baker, this year Mt. Rainer, which is about three miles high. They ascended the north side not previously explored, making the climb more difficult and interesting. With the party of over 90 people were members of many other clubs, even from the far away Alps. Between the annual climbs they took long walks or "hikes" about the city and vicinity, botanizing, etc., to keep in good walking condition.

Most people appreciate the rather even temperature of Seattle, the hottest day this summer being 84 degrees. The average temperature last summer was 64 degrees. The coldest in winter, that being the extreme, was 3 degrees above zero. Their discomfort at that point equals ours when we reach the unusual 20 to 30 degrees.

Beautiful Parks

Seattle is blessed with some beautiful natural parks. There are fully fifteen under the direction of Frederick K. Olmstead, landscape gardner, being connected by a network of boulevards. Superior to all others are Woodland Park and beautiful Ravenna. A few minutes ride on a car will take one to the heart of the wild woods, towering firs, mountain flora—just as nature made it for the most part. In Ravenna one may see giant firs. The largest tree in Washington is said to be here, 60 feet in circumference and three hundred feet high, fittingly called the Roosevelt—certainly a "big stick." Private parties still hold Ravenna and hold up the public at the rate of from 25 to 50 cents a visitor, but the city expects soon to acquire it.

An interesting feature of Ravenna is the Totem pole village. One of the finest specimens of the Totem pole is in Pioneer square, in the heart of the city. The story goes that a bunch of newspaper men visiting in Alaska hooked this one and brought it home, later settling with the Indians satisfactorily. The Totem pole means much to the Indian. It is his family record. Carved wooden poles of various heights, according to the age and importance of the family. The carvings are most grotesque and highly colored. The figures are made up of fish, frogs, animals, birds, etc., and combinations of these. For instance, if a wolf Indian family married into a family superstitiously guarded by a fish, the next addition to the Totem pole would be a combination of wolf and fish. Also deeds of valor are commemorated in this manner, as the valiant killing of a whale would entitle one to add this to his Totem pole.

One of the best places to study the real curiosities of Alaska, the Indikans, Eskimos, etc., is "Ye Old Curiosity Shop," near Coleman dock. Here among other things may be found a fairly good specimen of the octopus and a beautiful chambered nautilus shell.

The Roses Always

An easterner cannot pass by the beautiful roses. While not as fine as in the earlier summer, nearly every home, no matter how humble, has quantities of roses, climbers and bushes, still blooming profusely. Even at Christmas time a rose is occasionally seen

Of all the beautiful trees the Madrona is the most charming. It has a dark green tropical looking leaf, with a smooth dark, red bark that peels off and leaves an equally beautifully pea green bark, this gradually turning to the dark red again. These trees are found nowhere outside the tropics except along this western coast. It is almost impossible to transplant them. Anyone possessing a madrona tree feels quite favored.

One of the principal factors that cause high prices in food stuffs is the fact that the winter supplies for Alaska are shipped out of Seattle. In many things Seattle is as reasonable as the east, however. Much of the time we too pay "two bits for twelve pounds of spuds."

Aboard a Battleship

We visited the Pacific fleet of cruisers before they started on their long trip for Japan. A trip over the big steamship "Minnesota" was very interesting. It is the largest passenger boat on the Pacific, owned and operated by the Hill system of railroads, and plies between Seattle and the Orient. The sister ship, Dakota went to pieces on the rocks off the Japanese coast a few years ago. It takes from two to three weeks to unload and reload the boat, as it is both a freight and passenger steamer. Wednesday is visiting day. Aboard ship we saw the Chinese coolies eating rice with their chopsticks. They try to sell the chopsticks, dolls, silk handkerchiefs and other trinkets to visitors, but the wary refuse to buy, as the customs officer will confiscate the purchase at the gang plank.

"DOWN WITH THE GERMS."

If you could observe the extreme care with which the modern surgeon cleanses hands and instruments before an operation, you would be impressed with the danger of germs and the importance of absolute cleanliness in its relation to health.

The slogan of modern medical science is "Away with the germs." Germs thrive and multiply wherever they can find a lodging place in grease or dirt, but where things are scrupulously clean germs find it hard to live. The easiest and surest way to keep things clean lies in the use of Gold Dust washing powder. Gold Dust goes deep after dirt and routs out every germ and hidden impurity. It is the sanitary cleanser.

GOODYEAR SAWMILL AT TOMAH RESUMES

Big Plant will Soon Be in Operation and will Employ a Large Crew of Men

TOMAH, Wis., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The reconstruction of the C. A. Goodyear saw mill is fast nearing completion and it is a matter of a few days only before the big plant, which has been shut down since last May, will again be in operation. The boilers have been steamed up and the work has reached the stage of the final adjustment and testing of the new machinery. The mill will be ready to start on the completion of the electric power plant, which is to run both saw and planing mills, as well as furnish current for the city lighting and power system.

Entire Plant Changed

The extent of the changes which have been made since the mill shut down is undoubtedly far greater than most people realize. If the old mill had been torn down and replaced by an entirely new one, the change could not have been much greater. The exterior remains, but nearly everything within is new, including much of the framework. The whole building now stands on concrete foundations, with concrete piers under all principal bearings inside and all heavy machines. The old saws and machines have been replaced by new and more improved ones and many additional machines have been put in for new lines of work.

New Engine Rooms

The old engine and boiler room has been torn down, and new fireproof buildings erected in which are installed new boilers and the electric plant with its two huge Westinghouse turbine generators, capable of developing 1,200 horse power.

It is in reality a new mill equipped with the most improved machinery and is to be operated by electricity. It is one of the first saw mills in the country to be electrified throughout, and will be a model in this respect.

Pond is Deepened

The arrangements for handling the logs and supplying them to the mill have been as greatly changed as the mill itself. The pond has been cleaned out and deepened and a concrete retaining wall built along the whole west bank where the logs are unloaded from the cars. Inclined skidways extend from the railroad track to this wall on which the logs roll from the cars into the ond. The hardwood logs, however, will not go into the water, but will be hoisted from the cars to the elevated cableway and carried across the pond direct to the mill.

Roads Also Improved

Another great improvement which is now under way is on the roads through the lumber yard. These are being put on grade and paved with plank over which is a covering of dirt. This will afford good drainage and hard roadways on which to haul the heavy loads going to and from the mill.

The improvements will also extend to the planing mill, though perhaps not until next season. It will either be rebuilt or else torn down and a new one erected. In the latter case a change of location to the north part of the yards is contemplated.

RECIPE FOR WEAK KIDNEYS

A recipe for weak kidneys and bladder which can be mixed at home or by any good druggist is as follows: "One-half ounce Murax compound, one-half ounce fluid extract Buchu, six ounces good pure gin." Take in doses of one to two teaspoonfuls three times a day after meals.

Backache, rheumatic pains, frequent or highly colored urination, pain in the hip or groin, dizziness, puffiness under the eyes, are symptoms which should have immediate attention to prevent chronic rheumatism, Bright's disease or diabetes.

VIROQUA, Wis., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The city refuses to accept the fire alarm system which has been in use several months and has proven very inadequate. Its cost is $660.73.

LIGHT PRACTICE FOR PRINCETON

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 29.—Only sigal practice was on the program of the Tiger camp today. The coaches refused to give out the line-up for the game with the Navy tomorrow and from the number of men used in the final scrimmaging yesterday it is likely that nearly all of the leading candidates will have a trial, provided, of course, that the Navy proves no more bothersome than expected.

Bergen, Read, Hart and Cunningham will probably be the back field at the start of the game. Cunningham's chief asset is his ability to kick goals from the field and he has shown such aptitude at this that the coaches will probably find a place for him on the regular team, despite his lack of ground gaining ability.

The team is in good shape physically and the undergraduates are hoping for a big score. Unless the Tigers win by at least two touchdowns the last glimmer of hope for the Yale game will vanish.

FIRST WOMAN TO CONTROL AIRSHIP

Mrs. Van Deman Says it Is a Wonderful Sensation, and She Intends to Own One

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 29.—The first woman to steer an aeroplane!

This is the proud boast of Mrs. Ralph H. Van Deman, wife of an army officer, who Wednesday went aloft with Wilbur Wright at College Park and who was excited that it wasn't until today that she thought to mention that Wilbur had let her manage the levers for a brief moment.

"While we were flying," explained Mrs. Van Deman, "Wilbur nudged me and shouted that I could take the levers if I wasn't afraid. I leaned forward and seized them. His hands remained near in case of emergency.

"There was no appreciable difference after I took the levers except that I begun to feel in myself the power of mastery of the air.

"I was lost in the glorious feeling that I was flying—flying through the early morning air as a bird when it awakes and takes wing.

"I intend to have one of my own before very long. When Mr. Wright turned the levers over to me and I realized I was controlling the machine, I knew then that I would never be satisfied until I could fly whenever I should feel like it. Whenever I purchase my aeroplane, Mr. Wright has promised to become my instructor until I understand thoroughly how to operate it."

WOMAN IS GUIDED BY "OUIJA BOARD"

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 29.—After defying sheriff's deputies and the local authorities who for weeks have been trying to oust her from the tumbledown shack which has been her home for fifty-six years, Miss Anna K. Bowman, who has lived the life of a hermit, today took the advice offered her by her "Ouija board" and vacated the premises.

Miss Bowman has led a solitary existence and her chief amusement has been consultation of a ouija board. When she was notified recently that the only home she has ever known was to be torn down to make way for a larger structure she consulted the board.

"Shall I move?" she asked.

"Not yet," was the reply.

Last Saturday when the authorities had become more insistent, she repeated the question, asking whether she had better move on Monday.

"No," replied the indicator on the board. "You will be ill then."

Monday she suffered from a severe cold.

Last night the question was repeated a third time.

"Move when you have a house to move into. Do not store your furniture." was the board's advice.

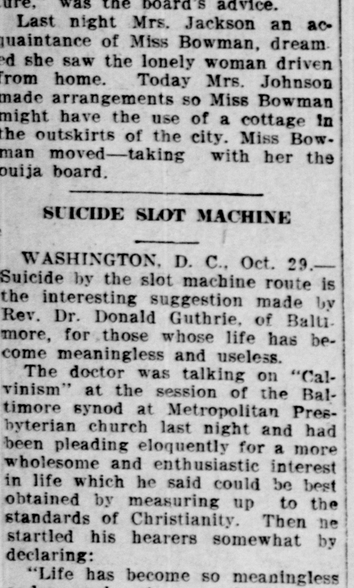

Last night Mrs. Jackson an acquaintance of Miss Bowman, dreamed she saw the lonely woman driven from home. Today Mrs. Johnson made arrangements so Miss Bowman might have the use of a cottage in the outskirts of the city. Miss Bowman moved—taking with her the ouija board.

SUICIDE SLOT MACHINE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 29.—Suicide by the slot machine route is the interesting suggestion made by Rev. Dr. Donald Guthrie, of Baltimore, for those whose life has become meaningless and useless.

The doctor was talking on "Calvinism" at the session of the Baltimore synod at Metropolitan Presbyterian church last night and had been pleading eloquently for a more wholesome and enthusiastic interest in life which he said could be best obtained by measuring up to the standards of Christianity. Then he startled his hearers somewhat by declaring:

"Life has become so meaningless and so useless to some that I advocate the setting up of a suicide slot machine where one can deposit a certain coin and be killed easily and respectably."

$8 A WEEK WOULD NOT KEEP FAMILY

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—How to support a wife and baby on $8 a week proved too serious a problem for George F. Smith, an 18 year old husband, who is under arrest for deserting his spouse and child.

A year ago when he married Almenia Jackson their joint capital was $11.65. Of this amount $4.50 went for a marriage license and the justice fee The wife is one month younger than Smith and they had been sweethearts since they were fifteen.

After much speculation and planning the two decided they could get along when George's salary had reached $7 a week. George's employers heard of his venture and raised his wages a dollar a week. But even this did not balance the expense.

In discussing the matter Smith said:

"I used to walk to and from work. For lunch I never spent more than ten cents, unless I spent five one day and fifteen the next. Four boxes of cigarettes lasted me a week, that being the only money I spent foolishly. Some weeks there would be ten cents left over and we would blow ourselves for a nickel show."

BABE IN HOCK FOR BOARD BILL 2 WEEKS

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 29.—Pretty cooing, 2 year old Neil Stydocker is home again here after being held several weeks as a hostage for a board bill. The good caliph, W. W. Bennett, who paid the board bill, is back again among his own babies. Bennett says he does not take much stock in caliphs and that Arabian nights stuff, but he says: "When I read about that poor young mother missing the greatest thing in life, and the baby too, for that matter, I just told my wife I would pay the board bill myself."

So Bennett and Mrs. Emma Stydocker, the mother, went to Mrs. G. Hall, who had been keeping the child since August 1. When Mrs. Stydocker wanted him back a few days ago she refused, declaring she would hold the child for ransom until the board bill was paid.

The two women cried, neighbors came in and testified, and finally good caliph Bennett persuaded Mrs. Hall to let him pay the bill and carry the baby home to Mrs. Stydocker. Mrs. Hall says she thought she was to have been allowed to adopt little Neil.

Occasionally you find a man who would rather be righ than be rich. It is hard to be both.

PARIS $50,000 SWINDLE

PARIS, Oct. 29.—The police here invaded a magnificent apartment in the Avenue Kleber, and arrested the Countess de Gudette, and a youth who claimed to be her son. The couple is suspected of having swindled Paris jewelers out of about $50,000 worth of gems.

The police claim that the woman is an American.

FATAL ACCIDENT ON MILWAUKEE ROAD

PRAIRIE DC CHIEN, Wis., Oct. 28.—(Special)—A shocking accident occurred at Bridgeport, seven miles east of the city on the C. M. & St. P. road at an early hour Tuesday morning.

Fritz Weiser of Werley, Grant county, was instantly killed by the east bound passenger train, his limbs being badly crushed and his body mutilated. His head and face were less injured and identification was easy and positive.

Weiser, who was thirty years of age and unmarried had come to Woodman with his brother to meet a sister who was returning from Dakota. The brothers decided to come as far as Bridgeport on the west bound midnight passenger train and go back on the east bound train with their sister. The trains met at Bridgeport and in changing from one to the other Weiser lost his life. His brother was not with him at the time and when he failed to make his appearance thought he had simply missed getting on and would come on the next train.

A coroner's inquest was held Tuesday afternoon at Bridgeport and the remains were taken to Werley for interment.

—"SOME CLASS"—

"Some Class"——is right——

A bunch of young fellows happened in the store early this week, and asked one of our salesmen to show them the suits and overcoats we advertised in our last Friday's "Rip-'em-up" Adv. The salesman showed them a number of those stunning new models—not a word was spoken until the salesman had finished—then with one accord they exclaimed—"SOME CLASS."

That simple little sentence carried more with it than we can say in this limited space—One young fellow added—"Some Class is right"—He was impressed—so were they all—with what they believed was not obtainable in the city of La Crosse.—We surprised 'em—just like we are surprising scores of men and young men every day in the week, with our swagger exhibit of the cleverest models in suits and overcoats from eight of the best clothes makers in America—headed by that concern of world-wide renown—Hart, Schaffner & Marx.—Our prices seemed to impress these young men more than anything else,—the modesty of the figures making an instant and lasting hit with them all.——

So we say to you—men and young men of La Crosse,—Come to the CONTINENTAL any day—and——

PAY ANY PRICE YOU WISH

$12.50, $15, $18, $20 OR UP TO $35

You can't go wrong, whether you buy suit or overcoat—At $10.00 we'll surprise you at the good values—At $12.50 we'll show you plenty of neat styles—At $15.00—$18.00—and $20.00 you'll be astonished at what you can buy here at those prices.—If you care to go higher, up to $30.00 or $35.00, we'll dress you in the most stunning styles you ever laid your eyes on—classy—clever—chic—snappy—the clothes that are absolutely correct in every detail—Not extreme, freakish styles—but correct models, as worn by the best dressed men in America. Come to this great popular Young Men's store—see what's doing—see the way we're dressing the majority of the modern young men of the town——

Tomorrow will be a big day here—so come as early as you can——

Better Results in the Laundry

Gets the Dirt and Spares the Clothes

You've probably always boiled your clothes. It's necessary with ordinary soaps. But not with Peosta. You'll get better results by simply soaking the clothes in Peosta suds than you will by hours of boiling with ordinary soaps.

Peosta gets the dirt more easily. And it spares the clothes. That is why it is far more economical. No need for scrub-board or boiler — both enemies of your clothes. Try the Peosta way once and save needless work and wear.

BURGLARS AND FIRE

are generally not wanted around a dwelling. Neither are they wanted around the shop, office or store, therefore beware and protect yourself against these two dangerous enemies.

Here is another case of the many which we generally hear or read about in our daily newspapers. Some slick burglar found it easy picking:

"Father lost his diamond last night. It only took about five minutes to get away with it. It was a good thing there was no one in the house at the time, as the burglar set fire to the house. As luck would have it, all father's valuable papers were destroyed."

What every house, office and store should have.

CAUTION—Beware and protect yourself.

"I believe if dad had invested in a good house safe such as S. J. de Ranitz & Co. sell, this burglar would not have had such an easy chance of working his game. I heard father say last night that as as soon as the new home was built he would invest in one of those Herring-Hall-Marvin Co.'s safes." Burglars are not so liable to get away with things when they are securely locked in a good Hall's safe, and it is absolutely safe from destruction by fire. It also saves the expense of a safety deposit or vault box, and the delay of running to and from the bank. If you do not understand this proposition write or call on

RAW MILK WITHOUT BACTERIA.

Plant apparatus for reducing skim milk into nourishing solids without the application of heat. Dr. George W. Goler, public health officer of Rochester N. Y., who opposes pasteurization of milk.

NEW YORK.—One of the most vital problems presented to the medical men and philanthropists now fighting tuberculosis is the age-old milk problem. Numerous have been the methods devised within the past quarter of a century tending to the purification of milk by elimating the bacteria contained in the ordinary product as it comes from the dairy. Possibly the most successful of these has been pasteurization, which 'it was believed for a time had solved the much mooted problem, but no onger have we the satisfied assurance that deadly bacteria has by this method been annihilated.

Mr. Thomas Darlington .health commissioner of New York city; Dr. Dowland G. Freeman, Dr. Louis Fisher, Dr. L. E. LaFetra and Dr. George W. Golier, public health officer of Rochester, N. Y., are numbered among the medical men of national reputation who declare that pasteurizing merely destroys the germ which causes milk to sour, but does not protect it from the infection and breeding of countless microbes of filth and disease. They further unite in declaring that the cooking of milk in this way or the heating of milk by any method beyond the temperature at which it leaves the cow results in its becoming dead milk and its food value absolutely destroyed.

This new process should prove a boon to the dairy industry of the United States, as it is said that in this way the enormous quantity of skim milk which is annually thrown away or fed to swine may be utilized to advatnage. As 10 per cent of the skim milk is nutritious solids, the amount of this waste annually is almost inconceivable. According to conservative estimates, there is produced in the United States each year and fed to swine or thrown away about twenty billion pounds of skim milk which contains about one-tenth or over two billion pounds of nourishment, the nutritious value of which is possibly not exceeded by any other food product. The utilization in a commercial way of this enormous waste will naturally place the milk business of the country on a more sound financial basis than it has ever known. It should mean an increase in receipts from the sale of milk products in the United States of a half billion dollars yearly.

The men who seem to have perfected thois wonderful process of preserving milk in a pure raw state are Drs. G. I. Rochelle A. E. Austin, Wharton B. McLaughlin and W. V. White. However, their method, it is said, is founded upon the experiments and research of the late Dr. Lucas S. Britt, who gave 20 years of his life in an effort to bring about the result his followers seem to have accomplished.

Free Sample Aids Old Men

The sudden change from years of activity of both body and mind to the quiet of later years causes the human system to undergo many changes, chief of which is in the digestive organs.

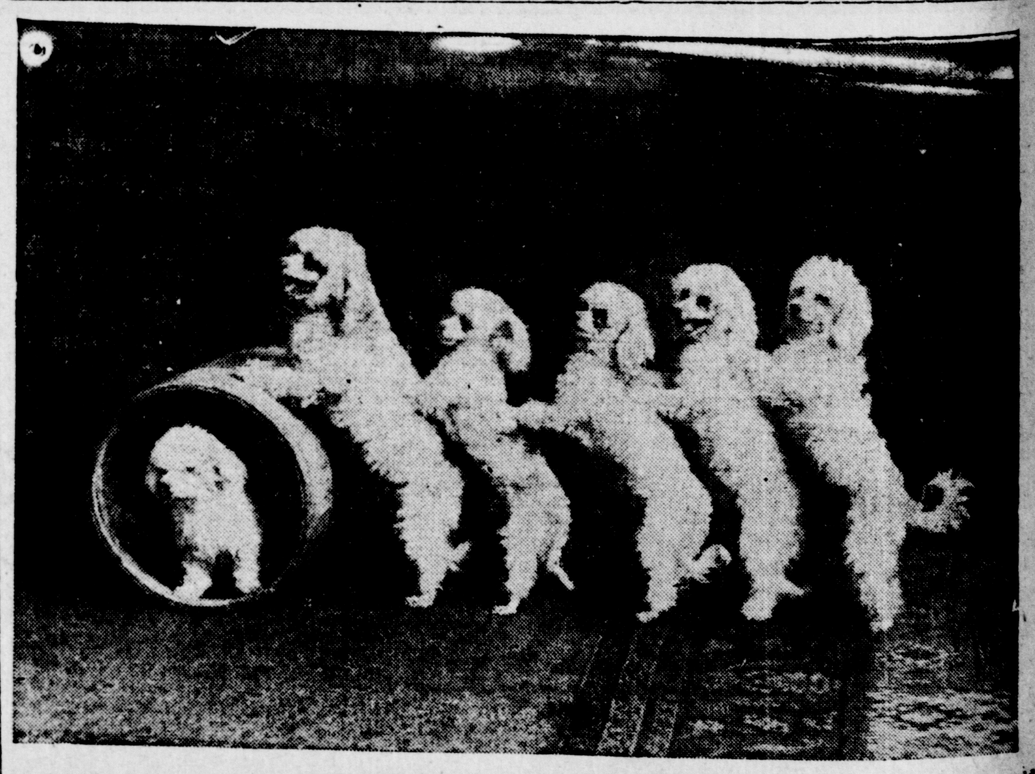

It becomes harder and harder to get the bowels to move promptly and regularly and in consequence many elderly men suffer not only from the basic touble, constipation, but from indigestion, headache, belching, sour stomach, drowsiness after eating and similar annoyances. It is first of all necessary to keep the bowels open and then to tone the digestive muscles so as to get them to again do their work naturally. A violent cathartic or purgative is not only unnecessary but harmful, and something mild will do the work just as well.

After you have got through experimenting with salts and pills and waters of various kinds, and have become convinced that they do only temporary good at best, then try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a mild, gentle, pleasant-tasting laxative tonic that is especially adapted to the requirements of old people, women and children, and yet is effective enough for anybody. Your druggist, who has handled it successfully for a quarter of a century, will sell you a bottle for fifty cents or one dollar, but if you want to make a test of it before spending any money send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and he will gladly send you a sample bottle free of charge.

This remedy is rapidly displacing all other forms of medication for the cure of stomach, liver and bowel trouble, and families like Mr. O. F. Wisher's of Sycamore, Ill., and Mrs. Carrie Culler's of 325 N. Notre Dame street, South Bend, Ind., are now never without it in the house. They have tested it and know its grand value to every member of the family.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.524 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Your Attention, Sir, for One Minute

Here are two departments that have developed so rapidly within the past few years we can hardly believe it until we look over the sales records. Starting with practically no business five years ago, they now occupy a commanding position. It is all due to the handling of meritorious qualities, pricing them at fair prices, and having what is wanted at all times. Saturday of this week, we shall hold a great Jubilee Sale in these departments. Prices have been put at a point that will demonstrate conclusively the leadership of these great departments.

Men's $12.50 $15.00, $18.00, and $20 Suits, $9.95

We have 20 to 25 small lots of new winter weight suits that have been selling at $12, $15, $18 and $20.—a size or two in each lot. By bunching the loss, we find we have a fair run of sizes. We have decided to do it and sell them at one price for choice. That's good merchandising, because it's poor policy to let small lots remain in an up-to-date department.

NOW LISTEN!—These are good winter weight suits in good styles and colors—been selling fast; we'd have more of each kind if they hadn't. They're made of strictly all-wool worsteds and cassimeres, lined with the best qualities of serge; come in browns, tans, grays, also a few olive greens, and are cut on the niftiest of the new fall models. Strictly $12, $15, $18 and $20 suits, in the Jubilee Sale Saturday, for only $9.95

The Home of the O'coat

MANY MARRIAGES OCCUR AT TOMAH

TOMAH, Wis., Oct. 29.—(Special)—The marriage of Miss Lena Franz and Mr. Herman Lenz was held in the German Evangelical church Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. W. A. Detert, pastor of that church, officiating. They were attended by Mr. Fred Franz, brother of the bride, and Miss Louisa Lenz, sister of the groom. A mixed quartette composed of the Misses Zimmerman and Messrs. Lewandowski and Franz, rendered beautiful music appropriate to the occasion.

The bride was handsomely attired in a white silk messaline gown and carried a bouquet of white roses.

The church was prettily trimmed with smilax and a profusion of flowers, together with wedding bells hung in the center. A large number of friends and relatives from out of town were present at the wedding. The couple will make their future home here.

Misch-Schroeder.

The marriage of Miss Anna Misch, town of Grant and Mr. Albert Schroeder, of Tomah, took place Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Misch, in the town of Grant. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John G. Glaeser, pastor of the Lutheran church here.

Muetzel-Meinecke.

The marriage of Miss Emma Muetzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Muetzel, and Mr. Louis Meinecke, was quietly solemnized on Wednesday morning last at 7:30. The happy event took place at the Lutheran parsonage, Rev. John G. Gleaser officiating.

An X-ray examination made today showed that no bones were broken but that the ankle was badly twisted. The actress stepped from a platform when she tripped and turned her ankle. She recovered herself and walked off the stage but immediately swooned and the curtain had to be rung down.

GOOD FROM THE START

Fifty-five years ago Gund's Beers were made in a log brewery and brewed in a six-gallon kettle. The superior grade of barley grown about this then sparsely settled region was the chief attraction that drew this famous German brewmaster to La Crosse. Now it is the heart of the world's finest barley growing belt and the cream of every barley crop comes to his brewery, from which combined with the finest hops grown in Old Bohemia, is brewed. Instead of a log brewery today, there stands a mammoth model 20th century plant operated and lighted by electricity to which visitors are always welcome.

It is impossible to brew a beer of a higher quality than Peerless. You should see that it is always in your home. Telephone us today for a case of Peerless, the beer of matchless flavor.

Anne hill. Sam Rask, once a La Crosse banker and now cashier of a bank at Blooming Prairie, Minn., was a visitor at the Ryan home, and had warm words of friendliness for old La Crosse. A. Delos Wescott, one time principal of the La Crescent schools, is now teaching in a Seventh Day Adventists college, near Walla Walla. Mr. and Mrs. George Maine, formerly of La Crosse, are delighted with their new home, Mr. Maine being associated with a Seattle bank. Mr. John Frazier, who says he has been in Seattle long enough to know, expressed no desire to return to Wisconsin. Miss Ferrie Holley likes the west, but has not quite overcome her longing for La Crosse, which she says is still good enough for her. Mr. Fred Cutler, formerly with various La Crosse banks, is most enthusiastic in regard to the west. He is in the real estate business, in which he has prospered in a big way, and has a very fine home on aristocratic Capitol Hill, not far from the home of Miss Minnie Bradley's sister, with whom the former La Crosse teacher resides. H. G. Brown, once of La Crosse and later with the St. Paul Pioneer Press, is now on the Seattle Times. His father and his sister, Miss Minnie, have a home at Brighton Beach, a new and growing suburb, on Lake Washington. Mrs. Bertha Sawyer-Soper, erstwhile of La Crescent, lives at Yesler, just across the bay from the exposition grounds. Mr. Soper has a two and one-half acre tract, 80 feet deep, that is expected soon to be available as building lots at good prices. Mr. Edwin Fleuck has a flourishing law business and likes the west immensely.

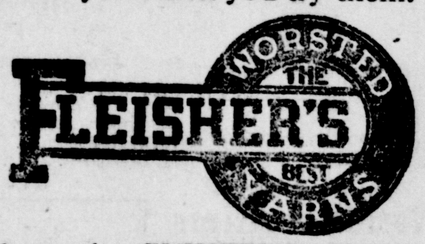

La Crosse Registrations

In this connection it may be interesting to note the number and identities of people from La Crosse and vicinity who were registered at the fair. Wisconsin had no state building on the grounds, but conveniences for registration were Stitch, stitch, stitch. It is astonishing how rapidly a piece of knitting or crocheting grows under your fingers.

It's fascinating. Perhaps that is why so many prefer it to all other forms of fancy work. And the things you make are really useful as well as beautiful. That is, if you use the right yarn. The thread of the FLEISHER YARNS is so even and elastic that they can be worked more quickly than other yarns. They make up into garments unequalled for softness, beauty and durability. Over three-quarters of the yarn users of America say so. So will you when you try them.

THE LATEST STYLES IN KNITTING AND CROCHETING

An Inexpensive Sacque for Baby

It is always a pleasure to make pretty things for baby, and sacques are always useful. Suppose you try this one—it is very easy. The rather plain body is set off by a heavy border of pink or blue, relieved with little tufts of white. The effect is truly charming. It is made of three skeins of Fleisher's Dresden Saxony, the ideal "baby" yarn—fine, soft, warm. It gives the greatest protection with the least weight, and is so elastic that the most energetic baby will find it hard to get the garment out of shape.

Full directions for making this and many other new and staple articles may be found in Fleisher's Knitting and Crocheting Manual, an invaluable handbook for beginner and expert. Contains a complete course of instruction in the various stitches and is the only authoritative guide to fashion in articles made of yarn.

LAFOLLETTE'S ON CANNON DOOMED

Like a Grim Old Wolf whose Fangs Are Long; But His Days Are Numbered

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 29.—Likening Jos. G. Cannon to a grim, old wolf whose fangs are long, United States Senator La Follette publishes another attack on the speaker of the national house in this week's issue of La Follette's weekly.

The editorial was called forth by Cannon's recent speech at Elgin, Ill., in which he attempted to read out of the republican party Cummins, La Follette and the other tariff bill "insurgents." The editorial says in part:

"Speaker Cannon, at Elgin, Oct. 15, served notice that he means to purge the threshing floor of the republican party of such chaff as Cummins, La Follette and 'their followers.' By these terms Cannon describes the progressives—who, of course, are followers of neither Cummins nor La Follette, but of their own unbought and unsubdued minds.

"'These people,' Speaker Cannon is reported to have said, 'call themselves republicans, but if they are, then I am something else.'

"We hope Cannon is right. If by these remarks he means there is an irresistible conflict within the party between Cannonism on the one hand and the principles of the progressive republicans on the other hand he is quite right. There is such a conflict.

* * * *

"If Cannon is a republican these progressives, these undrilled citizens are not. If Cannon is a republican Lincoln and Sumner and George William Curtis and Carl Schurz and the men who followed Sheridan and Grant and the commanders they followed, and the founders of the republican party were not republicans.

"Cannon may speak the truth when he denies that he has made a corrupt deal with Tammany whereby he will aid the Tiger in New York while it continues to aid him in congress in his contest with progressives or 'insurgents.' He may! They have come to his aid in that grim crisis of the last congress, not because of anything he promised them, but because of the deep sympathy that exists between such men. For, if Cannon is a republican, Tammany is republican; and so is Cox of Cincinnati, Sullivan, 'Bath House' John and Hinky Dink of Chicago and the powers that prey everywhere.

* * * *

"But about one thing, Cannon is evidently mistaken. He cannot gavel through his classification of republicans as he gavels through schemes in congress. The voters of the republican party will decide as to who are republicans and who are not.

* * * *

"The voting trust of Cannonism, the caucus and the convention may finally win and Cannon's definition of republicanism may be not up as the correct one. We shall see!

* * * *

"The progressives may well bide their time and laugh at the fulminations of the czar of the house. Their time is coming. Cannonism is merely a survival. The stars in their courses fight against it and it is doomed.

"A free untrammeled ballot in the republican party would strip Cannon of every vestige of power tomorrow. His pronunciamentos are but the snarling of the grim wolf who hears the bears in the woods and scents them closing in. He is still at large and his fangs are long; but the days of his depredation within the sheepfold of the people are surely numbered."

INSANITY PLEA MAY BE DEFENCE

Arbogast Woman's Mental Condition Closely Inquired Into by Attorneys Yesterday; Defense's New Tack

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 29.—Mrs. Mina Arbogast won a material point in her murder trial today, when Judge Grier M. Orr sustained an objection to the introduction of a blood stained underskirt found in the house by Lawrence Ulmer, Mrs. Arbogast's son-in-law, and identified by "Babe" Arbogast as her mother's.

The possibility of a plea of insanity in the event the state makes a case against Mrs. Arbogast, charged with the murder of her husband, was suggested in cross-examining Minnie R. Lloyd, a nurse. Attorney McLaughlin, for the defense, made much of Mrs. Arbogast's mental condition, "as affected by her physical condition."

Mrs. Lloyd testified that Mrs. Arbogast was delirious and that this delirium was caused by her physical injuries. But nothing was brought out as to her mental condition prior to the murder, or was attempted, as Miss Lloyd was not called in until after the tragedy.

It was disclosed yesterday that the Arbogast home was guarded on the night of the murder by a bull dog, a rat terrier, and a spaniel, and that these animals gave no alarm. The cellar window was covered with cobwebs, indicating that it had not been opened for some time previous to the murder.

This evidence was introduced to combat the theory that the murder was committed by persons who had entered the house from the outside during the night.

QUARTER MILLION LOSS BY FIRE

BRAINERD, Minn., Oct. 29.—The worst fire in the history of Brainerd occurred yesterday. It started in the basement of the Columbian block on Sixth street. At 8 o'clock that building, with its contents close to $100,000, was in ruins, and the Odd Fellows' block, adjoining, was gutted. This was occupied by the post office.

The letter mails were all saved and a large portion of the fixtures were carried out of the front office. The fixtures are badly damaged.

At 9:30 the Ransford hotel and the Wise block, worth probably $150,000, and Jamieson's saloon building on Fifth street were consumed.

SUSPECTS ARRESTED BY DETECTIVES

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 29. — Posted secretly through the "yeggmen" haunts of Minneapolis and St. Paul and on the alert constantly for three days, detectives employed by the Minnesota Bankers' association have succeeded in landing Joe Chaffin, suspected of complicity in the bank robbery at Avon, Oct. 16.

Chaffin was shadowed since Monday. Just as he was about to board a train in the union station, St. Paul, the detective called a patrolman and directed the arrest.

A man from Avon said he was one of the robbers who were seen running away from the bank after the explosion. The prisoner spent the night in jail.

LOVED MAN BETTER THAN SELF; SUICIDES

MINEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 29.—Julia Olson, 20 years old, committed suicide in the Glenwood hotel yesterday. Before swallowing two ounces of carbolic acid, she left a note signed by Jewell Melford, under which name she registered at the hotel.

The note read:

"Whoever reads this will know why I killed myself—because I loved a man better than my life. He led me to the bad. God punish him as he punished me. Call up Bess, 11353."

The suicide was the daughter of Mrs. H. Olson, of this city and until two weeks ago had lived at home.

OSHKOSH, Wis., Oct. 29.—The Oshkosh Waterworks company shut off the water in the First Congregational church parlors without notifying the church, because the water tax was forgotten. LIEUT. GOV. STRANGE IS STILL IN RACE

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 29.—"I am as much of a candidate for governor as ever," said Lieutenant Governor John Strange while on a visit to the capitol yesterday, "and expect to stay in the race until I am nominated or thrown."

Mr. Strange was here partly on a business mission, he said. Relative to a special session of the legislature he said:

"It seems to me it is up to the committee. If they cannot get together and report something definite, it will be useless to have a special session. We don't want to hear any debating society and accomplish nothing."

DOG FASTS 26 DAYS BUT IS STILL ALIVE

WAUSAU, Wis., Oct. 29.—To be shut in a bathroom for twenty-six days and a half, and yet live, was the experience of a pet dog belonging to Thomas Givoney of this city. The family went to Rhinelander on Sept. 29 and supposed they had left the dog with a neighbor, but it had got shut up in a bathroom. The animal was alive today but the effect of its enforced starvation, was plainly visible.

STEEPED IN LIQUOR RIDE ON TO DEATH

Nielson Dies and Braa Is Paralyzed After Stealing Ride on S. M. In Besotted Condition

As the result of an extreme thirst for liquor, Nels Nielson, Houston, Minn., is dead at the undertaking establishment of Miller Bros., and Nicholas Braa, also of Houston, is at the La Crosse hospital, confined with an attack of paralysis affecting his limbs from the waist down. The two men, it is supposed, fell from passenger train No. 1 on the Southern Minnesota division of the Milwaukee road at Money Creek in the vicinity of Houston some time last night. They were picked up by the crew of passenger train No. 8, in charge of Conductor Lew White and Engineer Charles Whiting shortly before midnight last night, and brought to La Crosse. This train arrives at the Vine street station at 12:30 a. m. The men were taken to the La Crosse hospital where Mr. Nielson died a few hours after succumbing to numerous fractures of the skull. Mr. Braa is still under the care of Dr. Suiter. He is paralyzed below the waist line and the physician states that the outcome of the case is doubtful.

Superintendent Perkins of the Southern Minnesota division states that the supposition is that the men stole a ride on the evening passenger train which leaves the Vine street station at 8.35 o'clock in the evening. When they arrived at Money Creek, it is supposed that they either fell or attempted to jump from the train, thus receiving their injuries. They were lying beside the track when the midnight train passed Money Creek. The bodies were seen by the engine crew who had the train stopped. They backed up and found the men in a very serious condition. All haste was made to La Crosse and the men rushed to the hospital, but Nielson was past all aid of the doctors. Their families and relatives at Houston have been notified of the accident. Railroad officials state that both men were in an intoxicated condition and that they had whiskey bottles in their pockets which were secured at North side saloons. This leads to the supposition that the men stole a ride on the train leaving this city at 8:35 o'clock in the evening.

LOCAL MAN STARS ON NAVY ELEVEN

Charley Miller Plays Sensational Football with the U. S. Marines at Charleston

According to information received by friends in this city, the victory of the U. S. Marine football team over the Citadel Marine academy at Charleston, S. C., last Saturday, was greatly due to the star work of Charles Miller, son of John Miller, 1006 Caledonia street. Miller is an old high school star and starred at the university of Wisconsin, being elected captain in 1907. The score was 17 to 6. Time after time Miller would break away from his position at right half back for runs from 35 yards and upwards only to be stopped by the safety man of the Citadel team. His punting was a feature of the contest. The back field of the Marines consisted of Miller, formerly of the university of Wisconsin, Brunbaugh, an old Illinois halfback, Cooms of Georgetown at quarterback and Williams of Lehigh, fullback.

The Charleston Daily News has the following to say about Charley Miller: "In Miller, who captained the great university of Wisconsin team of 1907, the Navy has one of the best backs in the country. Weighing close to 200 pounds, he is lithe, fast and a broken field runner, who has never been equalled on a local field. Besides this, he drags every play four or five yards after it is apparently stopped. We doff our hats in silent admiration to Miller and wonder how the cadets happened to score on his team. Three touchdowns was poor work for the Navy with such a halfback. Carolina and Clemson will have several hard games to play unless something should happen to put Miller out of the game."

Charles Miller is now an engineer in the Marine corps of the United States navy, having received an appointment through Congressman Esch and passing the competitive examinations successfully.

HORSE BREEDING IN LA CROSSE

The law requires all public service stallions to be licensed by the department of horse breeding of the college of agriculture of the university of Wisconsin. In La Crosse county at the present time there are 20 licensed pure-bred stallions and 16 licensed grade stallions. This is a good showing compared with that in some of the nearby counties, but as soon as possible the grade sires should be replaced by sound, high-class pure-bred stallions of fine quality and prepotency. Pure-bred licensed stallions exceed the grade stallions in numbers in La Crosse county and also in the following neighboring counties: Buffalo, pure-bred 35, grade 33; Pepin, pure-bred 12, grade and scrub 10; Eau Claire, pure-bred 22, grade 18. The grade stires preponderate in the following of the surrounding counties: Monroe, pure-bred 17, grade 55; Juneau, pure-bred 19, grade and scrub 23; Jackson, pure-bred 21, grade and scrub 34; Trempealeau, pure-bred 35, grade 61; Pierce, pure-bred 23, grade 38.

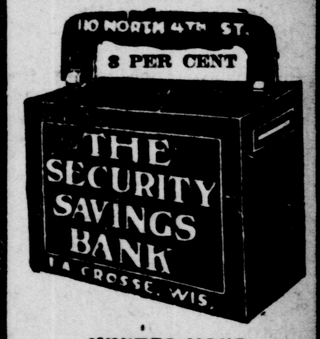

Posting of Liceses Required

Stallion licenses must be recorded with the county register of deeds and exact copies printed and posted in conspicuous places wherever the stallion is used for service at home or away from home, for a fee or free of charge. The licenses show owners of mares whether the stallion they think of using is "pure-bred," "grade" or "mongrel or scrub." Only sound, pure-bred stallions can improve our horses. All other stallions should be retired as quickly as their places can be filled by pure-bred sires.

"Pure-bred" means that the stallion is of pure breeding and is recorded in a stud book recognized by the United States government. "Grade" means that the stallion has either a pure-bred sire or a pure-bred dam, but is not recorded or eligible to registry in a stud book recognized by the government. "Mongrel or scrub" means a stallion of "mixed" or "unknown" breeding, having neither sire nor dam pure-bred. The latter license certificate ws provided by the last legislature. It will be given to all scrub stallions and to all stallions hitherto licensed as "grades," if at the time of renewing their licenses the owner cannot show that either the sire or dam was pure-bred.

The attorney general has given it as his opinion that fees cannot legally be collected for the services of an unlicensed stallion. All communications relative to these matters should be addressed to A. S. Alexander, College of Agriculture, Dept. of Horse Breeding, Madison.

HARD BATTLE WITH ST. JOHN'S SCHOOL

Local Gridiron Heroes to Have One of the Big Games of This Year Tomorrow

The hardest gridiron contest for the local high school football team will be played tomorrow afternoon with the St. Johns Military Academy situated at Delafield, Wisconsin. The squad from the military school has one of the strongest teams in the state and it is certain that the local boys will lose, but nevertheless La Crosse will fight hard to keep the score as low as possible.

Three weeks ago Saturday Marquette, the eleven which lost to Michigan last Saturday by only one point, defeated St. John 16 to0 and thus it will be seen that La Crosse can not hope to defeat such a fast organization.

The squad has been put through stiff scrimmages each evening this week and in the recent practices both the defensive and offensive playing of the regulars has been excellent, the best the scrubs being able to do the whole week was to push one touchdown over the first team's goal line.

The team is still somewhat crippled without the aid of Tiedeman, Brindley, Hundredmark and Shirley. However Coach Doseff hopes to make a creditable showing in the game tomorrow without the aid of these men. If it were necessary to use Tiedeman and Shirley they could enter the game but as the Eau Claire and Sparta games are yet to come and these games are of much more importance and the battle tomorrow has no weight on championship honors, they will be saved for future contests.

The squad will leave at 9:25 o'clock this evening for Delafield.

REVOLT IN GREECE THREATENS KING

ATHENS, Oct. 29.—With five hundred rebels in control of the big naval arsenal at Salamis and entrenched on the island of Lerois, nearby, the long expected Green revolution now appears to be under way. The rebels, led by Tipaldos, commander of the torpedo boat and submarine flotilla of the navy, are reported to have the support of the fleet and the sympathy of the whole navy. The affair has brought the tangled affairs of Greece to a crisis and today the abdication of King George, expected for months is imminent.

WHAT AN ATTACK OF THE GRIP DID

This Ohio Carpenter Did Not Recover His Health Until He Took the Tonic Treatment.

A single attack of the grip may mean a lifetime of misery if proper precautions are not taken to restore the blood and drive out the lingering poisons that cause the so-called "after-effects" of the disease.

The danger from the grip is seldom over when the characteristic symptoms, the fever, the catarrh, the headache and the depression of spirits pass away. The grip leaves behind it weakened vital powers, thin blood, impaired digestion and over-sensitive nerves—a condition that makes the system an easy prey to pneumonia, bronchitis, rheumatism, nervous prostration, and even consumption. Too much stress cannot be laid on the importance of strengthening the blood and nerves during convalescence.

Mr. Miles E. Butler, a carpenter, whose address is R. F. D. No. 3, Youngstown, Ohio, says:

"A few winters ago I had a severe attack of the grip and was left in a very weak condition. I ached all over, especially in the bones of my legs, and had such terrible shooting pains in my head that I could not read. I was feverish and felt so weak that I often had to lie down.

"I was sick most of the winter and nothing seemed to help me until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These seemed to help me right away and I took them until cured. I am now in good health and have never felt a return of the after-effects."

The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in debility cases lies in their direct response to the needs of the blood. That they do this well is shown by the gradual disappearance of the symptoms and the return of color and health. They lay the foundation for permanent health in the future.

A helpful booklet, "Diseases of the Blood," giving more information about the remedy will be sent free on request. If you are suffering from impoverished blood you cannot afford to wait another day before giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a thorough trial.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

DOUBT PROSPECT OF STREET LIGHT

Many Merchants Seem to Feel Extra Tax would Work Out as a Hardship

LEAVES STRONG IMPRESSION

One Merchant Says St. Paul Has Gained Rich Advertising Through Its Chandeliers

When George Blackstone Irving urged that the city should have chandelier lights on the down town business streets, he failed to take consideration, the view which the merchants of the city might take of the project. In order that the project be successful, it should have the undivided support of the majority of the merchants and inquiry among them today elicited the reply that although the project might be good for the city, still it seemed unfeasible to them at the present time. Many were the objections that were offered. It was proposed that the city pay part of the expense of maintaining the lights after they were installed and that the difference be made up out of the pockets of the merchants. Many of them stated that they were taxed to the limit now and that further taxation must necessarily be a hardship. A few only were in favor if it and it seems that these few merchants had seen the plan tried in other cities.

One merchant stated that the success of the plan at St. Paul and Minneapolis was wonderful and that it had proved to be a paying proposition as far as the merchants were concerned It not only lighted up the business section of the city but it left, with vistors, an impresson which is not easily forgotten. The plan has also been tried with success at Aberdeen, S. D.

The project, in order to be a success, should have the whole souled interest of the merchants of the city and information received from them seems to indicate that they consider the plan one which is not worthy of consideration.

No thorough investigation as to the expense of maintaining lights of this kind has been made and the merchants are necessarily unable to consider the matter from an intelligent viewpoint in this regard.

Several of them expressed themselves as willing to help pay the cost of maintaining chandelier lights if it was not too much.

It is probable that the matter will be taken up by the board of trade at some future meeting, although nothing definite along that line has been decided on up to the present time. An investigation as to the cost of securing and installisg the lamps and the payment of the electric lighting current will have to be made before any definite action can be taken along this line. At prest, regarding the matter from a surface view, it seems hardly feasible

PUBLIC NEED NOT KNOW OF DANGER

On the allegation by debators for the side of the police department that Chief Webber claims to have been tricked and misrepresented by the newspapers in previous efforts to give them the news, a Franklin club jury last night decided Webber was justified in keeping crimes a secret, even though the safety of citizens is endangered by not being forewarned.

Mock Trial Nov. 18

November 18th, a mock trial will be put on by the club at Fjelstad's hall, W. E. Barber being brought before the court on the charge of excessive smoking. He will be defended by A. H. Schubert. Otto Bosshard will be the prosecuting attorney and P. W. Mahoney will be the presiding judge. Sheriff M. M. Downey will bring in the prisoner and the evidence will be recorded by Clerk of Court George B. Marvin, Jr. Each side will produce three witnesses and the jury will be chosen from the membership of the club.

The last mock trial was very successful and it is expected that the present trial will draw a large attendance.

Next week the club will debate the question "Resolved, that the canteen should be restored to the army." The affirmative will be argued by Geo. Flynn and the negative will be taken by George B. Marvin.

The attendance last evening was very small and much difficulty was experienced in securing a jury for the debate.

FRANKIE LA SALLE CHARGES THEFTS

Alleging that Drs. Ozro L. Ellis and Charles F. Lahn robbed her apartments of a davenport valued at $13, two office chairs worth $5 and a center table valued at $2 while she was absent from the city, Miss Frankie E. LaSalle today caused the arrest of the men on a larceny charge.

Ellis and Lahn were brought into county court this morning and arraigned before County Judge John Brindley where they entered a plea of not guilty. The case was adjourned a week. The defendants claim that the furniture was their own property which had been in the apartments since they occupied them, and which had been presented to them by the plaintiff at that time.

Constipation And Appendicitis

The Latter Usually Caused By The Former, Which, In Turn, Has Its Origin In Intestinal Indigestion

Chronic constipation is a disease which is about as prevalent as dyspepsia and indigestion. Nearly every one suffers from it occasionally, but there are millions of people who endure it habitually, and who are accustomed to resort to the use of laxatives and cathartics daily.

Many people seemed to have developed a perfect mania for taking pills and instead of trying to ascertain the latent cause of the disease, and removing it by appropriate treatment, they are content to continue the reckless use of laxatives, aperients, drastic cathartics and violent purgatives, until finally inflammation of the bowels occurs, which reaches the appendix, and the result is appendicitis.

In investigating and tracing the causative factors of constipation and its frequent sequel, appendicitis, it has been noted by physicians that the majority of cases were preceded and accompanied by a long-standing gastro-intestinal indigestion.

The idea that appendicitis is brought on by foreign bodies, such as seeds, etc., becoming lodged in the appendix is an exploded theory. It is now definitely known that constipation is the most prolific cause of this dread disease, while the constipation, itself is previously induced by intestinal indigestion, or amylaceous dyspepsia—the inability to digest starches—so the relation between cause and effect is readily seen and appreciated.

The absurdity of attempting to cure constipation by the use of physic should be apparent to every one. Laxative drugs and powerful purgatives, will never cure a disease of this sort, and those who make frequent or regular use of them will, sooner or later, set up an inflammatory condition of the intestinal system.

A person with first-lass digestion will never be annoyed with chronic constipation, and when this trouble does exist, instead of slugging the system with pills, liquid laxatives, candy cathartics, etc., use a remedy which will cure the gastro-intestinal indigestion, and you will find that the constipation no longer bothers you, and with its removal, the risk of developing appendicitis will be reduced to the minimum.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS have been the means of curing numerous cases of constipation, by first curing the intestinal indigestion. They digest every kind of food, a single grain being capable of digesting 3,000 grains of alimentum, and in addition to pepsin and other powerful digestives, they also contain diatase, which converts starch into sugar, and readily cures amylaceous dyspepsia and intestinal indigestion.

If you are suffering from dyspepsia, constipation, and, in fact, indigestion of any kind, don't run the risk of getting appendicitis, but strike at the root of the trouble—the original cause—by using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which will quickly rid you of all functional disorders of the alimentary tract.

Secure a box of this digestive remedy from your druggist for 50c and send your name and address to the F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich., for a free sample package.

JUDGE AROUSES THE IRE OF CLUB WOMEN

Federal Court Judge Grosscup Offers an Analysis of What Women Cannot Do

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—The club women of Chicaga and the believers in equal suffrage are stirred up today over an address delivered last night by Federal Judge Peter S. Grosscup, of the federal court, in which he declared that women have not the ability to hold a place in the "realm of real work."

"Women can feel and interpret music, even on a jewsharp; women can be great fiction writers, but that ends it," said the jurist.

Judge Grosscup said in part:

"Woman is not a scientist, for science consists in gathering masses of details. She is a failure even at doctoring, except in the humanitarian phases of it; such as are embraced in good nursing.

"She is not good as a theologian, because theology demands analysis and a woman can't sit down and analyze anything. She would be all the time picking at the hem of omniscience and wondering if it was made of silk or near silk.

"Woman is not good in judicial work because she is devoid of reasoning faculty. One woman lawyer I know ended her career in jail for contempt of court because a judge ruled against her and she threw a pitcher at him.

"Any man knows the end of a business career that any woman undertakes. She has not the qualities to conduct any business to success unless it is by a hit or an accident."

BIG PRICES ARE PAID FOR CORN

Forty-five dollars for eleven ears of corn was the sum received by John F. Anderson of Lanesboro recently from the La Crosse Interstate Fair Association. The corn is known as the Minnesota yellow dent variety number 13. Mr. Anderson captured the sweepstakes at the fair and also had the largest and most perfect ear which captured the Fred Heil special prize of $5.00.

Peter H. Levy of Preston got twenty dollars for the best ten ears of Van Loon's blue ribbon yellow dent corn. The first premium for Salzer's Wisconsin Sunshine corn was a similar amount captured by R. Meinking of Bangor.

Emil Hauser of this city was paid $20.00 for the best ears of Wisconsin number seven white dent corn. There was a large number of second and third prize winners the association having on hand now about 1000 ears of prize corn.

The William Doerflinger sweepstakes of $25 for the best twenty-five ears of any variety of corn, was captured by John Van Loon of this city.

All of the first prize corn is now on exhibition in the William Doerflinger windows, and tomorrow it will be taken to the supervisors' room in the La Crosse county court house where the fair association will sell it at auction to the highest bidder. There is considerable rivalry every year between corn growers of this county every year to secure the prize ears for seed corn.

A bill for four dollars presented to the La Crosse Gas and Electric company by the association for four cobs of the corn alleged to have been fed to their team by the driver who was at work at the fair grounds, has been returned to the secretary of the association with the affidavit of the driver that his horses didn't eat the corn.

ROCKEFELLER GIVES A MILLION DOLLARS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 29.—Government health experts are unanimous in expressions of gratification because of John D. Rockefeller's munificent gift of a million dollars to fight the "hook worm" disease. Surgeon General Wyman of the public health and marine hospital service said today:

"I am very glad to learn that an effort is to be made to eradicate this disease, which conservatively estimated, affects two million peole, principally in the south.

Surgeon General Rixey of the navy and Brig. Gen. Sternberg, formerly surgeon general of the army, both expressed themselves as being much pleased that there was now a chance of eradicating the disease.

The hook worm is a parasite which is supposed to enter the human system through the bare feet. It feeds on the red corpuscles of the blood and thus produces enervation or so-called "shiftlessness," common in some sections of the south.

MISFORTUNE COMES TO CASHTON FAMILY

Wife Breaks a Limb and Ross Green Later Has Hand and Arm Crushed

Turns of ill luck seldom come singly for Ross Green of Cashton.

On Wednesday Mrs. Green fell down stairs at her home at Cashton and broke her limb. The fracture was a serious one and will confine her to her bed for some time to come.

Yesterday while Mr. Green was oiling a well drilling machine which was in motion, the hammer descended upon his hand and forearm crushing the wrist and upper portion of his hand so seriously that he may lose it. Dr. Morrison, who was called, rushed the injured man to St. Francis hospital in this city in an automobile and he is now being treated here. The trip of 32 miles was made in less than an hour.

SPLENDID IS VERDICT ON PLAY

Linden-Bartl, accompanied by a large chorus carrying baskets of flowers, and great masses of stage roses were heaped about in alluring profusion. Mrs. McLinden-Bartl's voice was splendid and her dancing and acting was one of the best features of the entire evening. In this number she appeared in a quaint little costume and the dresses of the chorus were in harmony. There were a large number of excellent voices in the chorus, making the piece a most commendable presentation.

"They Always Follow Me."

Miss Helen Miller in the catchy song, "They Always Follow Me," won the hearts of her audience. She displayed fine grace and an excellent voice, and the simple and rythmic evolutions made this song number a charming one. Reaching the chorus part fourteen young men followed her about the stage appealingly, carrying out the artistic idea of the theme.

Miss Lillian Anderson.

Miss Lillian Anderson took advantage of the splendid opportunity offered her in the song, "I'm Looking for a Sweetheart." Her loveliness and grace and the sweetness of her voice, supplemented by her easy presence and becoming gown made her appearance one of the evening's delights She flitted up and down the footlights pleading with outstretched arms to the young men of the audience to be her sweetheart, and when Mr. Ruel Russel from one of the boxes responded in his pleasing tenor it was a happy surprise.

A Character Song.

Mrs. Grace McLinden-Bartl added to her achievements in the character creation, "A Little Pink Petty From Peter," the petticoat song in which she was assisted by several young ladies. The tunefulness of the piece caught the galleries and the "gods" whistled lively accompaniment to subsequent encores. Mrs. Bartl was enabled to show her cleverness with a pretty little dancing part.

"After the Matinee."

In the sketch "After the Matinee" it would be difficult to place the credit for the entire idea was so excellently portrayed by the participants that each appeared especially deserving. Miss Pernelle Horner as Madge, a chorus girl, and Mrs. McLinden-Bartl as Flossie, her chum, were inclined to be critical of their companions. Miss Elsie Ott was very proud to be Pansy, a chorus girl, and Miss Kroner played "Sadie McConnell, more or less popular;" at least she walked off with the Johnnies. Miss Pearl Belle made a charming soubrette and Miss Lillian Anderson as the leading lady, charmingly gowned, interpreted her part to perfection. Cleverness was a characteristic of Miss Ilene Dineen's acting as the leading lady's maid, and then came the feature—Miss Maud Boyd. Donald MacDonald, as the star, proved very fond of the girls as they appeared from the stage door, but, as in the "Blue Mouse," there was the wife to be considered, and Miss Maud Boyd was the finest "wife that could have been selected for the part. She was thoroughly aroused by her husband's scandalous actions and his ear came handy as a handle by which to lead him away from temptation. But she could not resist the music and wound up with a grotesque imitation of the chorus girls' dance which "brought down the house." The cream of beauty was in this chorus, listen: Ruth Colman, Grace Heath, Barbara Brown, Viola Doerflinger, Louise Gund, Pernelle Horner, Alaine Wheeler, May Williams, Frieda Michel and Eleanor Marston. The Johnnies were very well behaved for Johnnies, in this part.

"The Girl from Sherry's"

Perhaps the most tuneful of the songs was "The Girl from Sherry's," sung by Mr. McDonald. Pretty Miss Elsie Ott represented the shy lass from the country, who hadn't been at Sherry's—"at least, not 'just before the lights went out.'" Miss Laura Cunningham was the Girl With the Hat and her appearance was a delight. She danced charmingly and smiled bewitchingly and the only regret was the shortness of her part. Miss Lillian Kroner was the cultured Boston maid and she was certain she had not been in the vicinity when the "incandescent globes were extinguished."

As an encore Bert Spence, Earl Richmond and Mrs. McLinden-Bartl supplied a bowery take-off, "The Girl from Larry's," which was immense.

Miss Weimar a Star

Miss Lena Weimar captivated her audience and displayed an exquisite voice in "The Glow Worm." The song is tuneful and Miss Weimer's clear singing was extraordinarily good and showed possibilities. Misses Laura Cunningham and Jeanette Hankerson were the glow worms and the chorus, equipped with electric flashes, made this piece one of the most appreciated and highly spectacular of the evening.

The Racing Octette

There was a dash and vivacity to the Racing Octette which sent this number off with a snap and won hearty applause. It was performed by the Misses Lilah Derr, Anderson, Williams, Colman, Michel, Marston, Gund, Heath and Messrs. Moll, Spence, Smith, Moss, Harrington, Funk and Russell.

Pierrette Dance

In cunning green and white costumes ten young ladies acquitted themselves ably in the Pierette dance. They went through the intricate steps without a faltering movement. It was probably the prettiest dance of the evening and closed when the ten pretty faces appeared through paper hoops which concealed them during its early progress.

"Hello, People—People, Hello"

The audience took to the "Broadway Octette" or the "Hello" song by Mr. McDonald and the eight Hello girls: Misses Heath, Gund, Colman, Brown, Michel, Williams, Bell and Ott. There were stormy curtain calls and the piece had to be repeated several times, "Goodbye" finally being substituted for "Hello."

"Starland" Simply Grand

A fair critic might call "Starland," sung by Mrs. Grace McLinden-Bartl, "perfectly lovely," but we would apply a broader word—grand. It was grand. Mrs. Bartl looked charming in the hat and gown she wore in this part and the splendid interpretation of the sweetness of the piece made it something to be remembered after the rest of "Up and Down Broadway" is forgotten. The spotlight played fitfully upon the singer who occupied a darkened stage and the girls of the chorus carried streamers of white silk which were manipulated with dreamy and delightful effect. Colored lights from the "wings" played upon the streamers and one might well imagine a wonderful starlight was playing through space upon a galaxy of romping fairies. Mrs. Bartl responded to enthusiastic encores several times.

The "Smoke' Song

One of the big undertakings of the evening was the "Smoke" song. The setting represented a big cafe with young men gathered around the tables with steins and cigars, and fifteen of the prettiest young ladies moved gracefully in the background with the slow rythm of the music. Mr. Otto Zielke sung the piece, assisted by the immense chorus, and the introduction in the chorus of a charming and clear soprano in the wings at pleasing intervals, greatly enhanced the effect.

"The Old Stage Door"

The next piece was listed on the program as "The Old Stage Door," and the Little Girl in Blue melody, carried through the act, was decidedly pleasing.

Mr. Mac Donald sung the leading part and as he sung the girls appeared in character from the old stage door. Miss Marston was a splendid Florodora Girl and Miss Georgine Young as the Pony Girl pouted when the singer told her she was not the little girl he wrote to. Miss Barbara Brown was the Sweet Girl and Miss Grace Heath was the Shy Girl. Miss May Williams as the haughty girl did well and Miss Lila Derr made a gracious flirtatious maiden. Miss Ruth Colman and Alaine Wheeler as the hesitating sisters were splendid in their parts and, once more, the feature—Miss Daisy Gage, as the "Scrub Lady." The character was one of the most comical of the show and her splendid representation of the quaint part brought forth much merriment from the audience She showed rare ability and her work was a timely diversion.

The Finale

Mr. MacDonald's grace as a dancer was demonstrated again in the finale the Confetti scene, which brought the production to a close. In this the entire company appeared, singing over the choruses of the popular songs numbers.

The piece was a thorough success, socially, artistically, musically and financially and it was truely a proud day for Mr. MacDonald upon whose skill and energy its success depended. The orchestrations, which were written by Prof. Urquart Cawley, were excellently done, and this well known musician is receiving his share of the credit today.

The Participants

Those who took part are as follows:

Donald MacDonald, Mrs. Grace McLinden-Bartl, Miss Lena Weimer, Miss Helen Miller, Miss Lillian Anderson, Messrs, Ruel Russel, Orlando Hegge, Miss Agnes MacLinden, Misses Eleanor Marston, Ruth Coleman, Grace Heath, Louise Gund, Marie Wheeler, Viola Doerflinger, Frieda Michell, Barbara Brown, May Williams, Mae Aiken, Lila Derr, Pernelle Horner, Maud Boyd, Della Falk, Daisy Gage, Lillian Kroner, Esther Nyhus, Helen Kroner, Margaret Tausche, H. Houthmaker, Elsie Newburg, Elsie Ott, Georgine Young, Frances Walker, Miss Lennon, Helen Harrison, Hazel Viets, Rebecca Thompson, Margery Gordon, Warsaw, Deneen, Pearl Bell, Leona Doerflinger, Genevieve Felzer, Bernice Barber, Anastasia Felzer, Ruth Hilstad, Laura Cunningham and Jeanette Hankerson.

Messrs. Bert Spence, Parmalee Smith, Alex Moll, Will Owen, Harrington, Gatterdam, Wesson, Hyde, Gelatt, Walker, Ruplin, Herbert Moss, Gussie Roys, Arthur Funk, Dr. McGown, Aubrey and Earle Richmond.

S.S.S. CURES CHRONIC ULCERS

There is nothing that causes more worry and discomfort than a chronic, festering ulcer. As it lingers, slowly eating into the tissues and surrounding flesh, and by its tendency to grow worse in every way, it suggests the possibility of being cancerous in its nature. Efforts to heal the ulcer by means of salves, washes, lotions, etc., always result in failure, because such treatment can have no possible effect on the blood where the impurities and morbid matters form, and are carried thorugh the circulation to the place, to keep it open, irritated and diseased. The impurities in the blood must be removed before the healing process can begin. S. S. S. goes to the fountain-head of the trouble, and drives out the germ-producing poisons and morbid impurities which keep the ulcer open. Then as this rich, purified blood is carried to the diseased place the healing commences, the inflammation gradually leaves, the discharge ceases, new tissue and healthy flesh are formed, and soon the sore is permanently cured because the source has been destroyed. S. S. S. does not make a surface cure, but by supplying the blood with healthful, tissue-building properties it begins at the bottom and causes the flesh at the diseased spot to firmly and permanently knit together, and the place is left sound and well. MAROONS TO PLAY CRUCIAL BATTLE

Outcome of Game will Decide whether Chicago Stays in Championship Race

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—In the last practice for the Gopher game at Minneapolis, Coach Stagg of the Maroons yesterday viewed his warriors with lugubrious looks. The eleven is up against the game that will tell whether or not Chicago has a chance for western championship honors.

All plans have been made for the early departure of the Maroon outfit on the 6:30 p. m. Burlington train. Practice was called in the afternoon with the understanding that scrimmage was to be forgotten and the athletes prepared to go straight from Bartlett gymnasium to the train. Following are the athletes whom Coach Stagg has selected for the trip:

Capt. Page, Worthwine, Crawley, Rogers, Sunderland, Kelley, Hoffman, Gerend, Smith, Badenoch, Ehrhorn, Rademacher, Kassulker, Young, Menaul, Daveport, Fenger, Hirshl, Sauer, Tatarski, Sampson and Deboth.

Arriving in Minneapolis today the men will rest in the forenoon and in the afternoon will take signal practice.

Bear stories came from the Maroon squad. Six of the men Stagg depends upon to thwart the Gophers, it was said, are battered. As a matter of fact, the "hospital list" is not formidable.

KONEY IS TRADED TO THE GIANTS?

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—It is stated here that Manager McGraw of the New York Giants has prevailed upon Bresnahan and the St. Louis Cardinals management to let Eddie Konetchy, the wonderful first sacker, go to New York in exchange for Fred Merkle and Charlie Herzog, two of the likeliest youngsters in major league company.

Merkle, who forgot to touch second base, is a good ball player. McGraw showed that he thought so by keeping him after his alleged "bonehead" play that cost the Giants more probably than the mistake of any other ball player ever cost. Herzog, with his infielding sensations, often has helped the Giants to beat Chicago.

Another of McGraw's moves; He has given up hopes of getting Mike Donlin and the latter will achieve his recent ambition —to go to Philadelphia to be manager of Phillies when Bill Murray steps out. Donlin will be exchanged for Sherwood Magee, the outfielder that every big league club in the National league has coveted.

LAST SCRIMMAGE FOR NORTHWESTERN

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 29.—Coach Horr of Northwestern gave the purple players their final scrimmage practice on Wednesday preliminary to the game with Wisconsin on Saturday.

On account of the long list of injured players, and the small list of substitutes, the coach has decided he will take no chances of adding to the hospital squad, and has announced the team will spend the remainder of the practice time before the game with the Badgers in light signal drill.

In a forty-five minute scrimmage with the the scrubs on Wednesday the varsity was able to score only four times. Many long gains were made through the varsity line by Fay, Lamke and Carroll of the picked team, yet the varsity put up a stubborn defense whenever the scrubs got near the goal line, and repeatedly held its opponents for downs.

FIVE NEW DEPUTY WARDENS

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 29.—State Game Warden G. W. Rickeman on Thursday appointed five additional deputy game wardens. The new appointees are James Craig, of Superior; H. O. Lund of Iron River; Martin Bergh of Rhinelander; Ole Rooth of St. Croix Falls and Andrew Houe of Hudson.

DROP KICKERS ARE STILL GREATLY USED

Reduction of the value of the goal kicked from the field from four to three points which was one of the hanges in the football rules this season apparently has had no effect in causing the coaches to eliminate this method from the records of the games already played east and west.

Field goals are still a prominent part of the attack of nearly every eleven in the country and coaches are today seeking as diligently for men capable of booting the ball between the goal posts either by drop or place kicks as they were when such a play counted one more point in the score.

It was thought that coaches would work harder to perfect scoring machines and that field goal kicking would become a secondary issue.

Results up to the present time show that this is not the case. Under the present rules, with the open running and kicking game predominant, coaches have seen the advantage of a good field goal kicker, and nearly every big school in the country has at least one man in its squad who is capable of lifting the ball over the bar for field goals.

Among the conference colleges Chicago leads in this department, Pat Page having done all this work for the Maroons. In every game Stagg's team has played this season Page has kicked at least one field goal, his record showing four in three games.

Michigan, too, has done considerable scoring in this way, in spite of the fast that the Wolverines have not gone far with the open style of play. This is due, however, to the possession of an exceptional kicker in Allerdice. Yost's team has played three games and Allerdice has four field goals to his credit.

Iowa has in Hyland a kicker of exceptional ability. He held Nebraska to a draw in Iowa's last battle. Hyland got two field goals in the first half.

Northwestern has Ward, who scored a goal against Purdue; Indiana has Gill, who got one against Wisconsin; Illinois has Seiler, who registered three points against Chicago, and Minnesota has McGovern, who has one field goal to his credit, scoring it against Nebraska.

Wisconsin, Purdue and Nebraska have yet to register their first field goals.

SELECTION OF THE REFEREE DIFFICULT

This will Be the Hardest Point to Settle when Jeff and Johnson Meet Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Probably the hardest point to settle when Jim Jeffries and Jack Johnson and their managers meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Hotel Albany, to arrange for their proposed fight will be that of a referee.

The only name proposed is that of John L. Sullivan, whom Johnson wants selected. It is certain Jeffries will refuse. Since old John L. Sullivan was quoted in Chicago dispatches as saying he thought Jeffries hadn't a chance against the negro and later as saying that Jeffries would make quick work of Johnson, Jeffries has become suspicious and believes the old timer's antipathy to colored fighters has been waived in the case of Johnson.

So far there has been nothing to indicate that the questions of forfeit and side bets will not be satisfactorily arranged. Each fighter has suggested that he thought a forfeit of $10,000 would be enough. Jeffries wants a $10,000 side bet, to whoch George Little, Johnson's manager, has made the counter proposition of a $5,000 side bet and "all the money that Jeffries wants to bet at ringside odds." He says he is willing to bet $25,000 on Johnson even if the odds are no longer than 10 to 9 on Jeffries.

Should either fighter make any unreasonable demand at this afternoon's meeting the "championship" may be settled without Marquis of Queensbury rules being invoked. Jeffries is exhibiting an increasing dislike for Johnson and the latter is not expressing any undue fondness for Jeffries. It may all be a case of pugilistic theatricals but if it is the real thing today's meeting may be as riotous as a suffragette attack on the house of commons.

Each fighter intends to pick up all the "soft" money that can be had before the fight is indicated by their practical agreement that the date shall not be earlier than next April.

CRIME TO MENTION FERRER'S NAME

BARCELONA, via Cerbere, Oct. 29.—As a result of the efforts of the government to wipe even the memory of Francisco Ferrer from the minds of the people, the jails are today crowded with persons arrested for the bare mention of the dead professor's name.

The prisoners are held as suspicious characters and not on the specific accusation that they uttered the name 'Ferrer." That they spoke of the dead leader, is, however, considered the strongest evidence against them as illustrated by the examining officials' invariable remark when they plead innocence: "Then why were you talking of Ferrer?"

The authorities are admittedly afraid that the people will make a martyr of the late agitator, who promises to become a more serious menace to Spain dead than alive.

CONSPIRE AGAINST KING OF BULGARIA

VIENNA, Oct. 29.—Dispatches today from Sofia declare that a military conspiracy against Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria has been discovered. The authorities are preserving the utmost secrecy rearding the affair and few of the details have leaked out.

A combination of Bulgaria, Servia and Montenegro would be stronger than the Austrian government wishes to contemplate so near its borders, especially as, if such a combination is planned, Russia must be behind it.

And yet it should be easier to tell the truth than manufacture a lie.

Some men can't get themselves in good shape till they reform.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Aggressive buying was in evidence in nearly all the active issues at the opening of the stock market and substantial advances were recorded. Amalgamated showed a gain of ¾, Steel common was up ⅝, Reading 1½ over yesterday's close. Others made good fractional gains.

11 a. m.—Trading continued active all through the first hour and prices of many stocks reached the highest range recorded during the past two weeks. Amalgamated Copper advanced two points, Steel common advanced to 91. Reading was the strongest of the railroad issues. Government bonds unchanged; others strong.

Noon.—The tone continued strong throughout the forenoon but price movements after the first hour were fractional and without great importance. Realization sales caused some shading aff in prices from the highest range. Attention was attracted to Allis-Chalmers common by the appearance of large buying orders from prominent banking houses for five percent bonds of that stock based on information of increased earnings.

2 p. m.—The market became stronger again in the afternoon, prices showing sharp, advances and in some cases reaching new high records for the day. Amalgamated was particularly strong and all industrials were in good demand.

The stock market closed quiet.

FIREMAN IS ROASTED ALIVE IN FIRE BOX

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 29. — Rinehart Dresser, a fireman, was thrown into the fire-box of his engine and roasted alive in a rear end collision in the freight yards of the New York Central at Kent street today. Arthur Chapman, night yardmaster, was buried under the wreckage and killed. Firemen were called and rescued the body of Dresser before it was entirely consumed.

George Heberle, yardmaster, had his leg cut off and will probably die. The wreck was caused by a misplaced switch.

UNCLE SAM'S GREAT LOTTERY.

Standing Rock and Cheyenne River Reservations, to be Distributed Among Homeseekers October 26.

BERDEN, S. D.—On October 26 the United States government will dispose of by lottery approximately 2,235,000 acres of land in North and South Dakota, known as the Standing Rock and Cheyenne Indian reservation. Government appraisers have placed the value on this land at from 50 cents to $6 an acre, but this is extremely conservative as most of the land is evry available for farming, and when placed under cultivation will be just as available as the surrounding territory, where farms sell for from $20 to $40 an acre.

It is astonishing to see how much patience a man has where his own faults are concerned.

It is probably the uncertainty of the future state that prompts women to cry at weddings and funerals.

Lots of men get stuck because they act on the spur of the momens.

DIRT CHEAP!

You know what the average price of land is throughout the middle west—from $100 to $150 an acre.

But here in the very heart of Wisconsin lies over a half-million acres with the same soil and the same climate as the other lands, yet thrown on the market at from $6 to $20 an acre.

Ten Years to Pay

This land has been held by the lumbermen until stripped of its timber, and now it is thrown open to farmers.

One man recently bought some $15 land and after clearing and cultivating it sold the land for $50 an acre and reinvested the profits in other land here. He is even now a wealthy man.

You can buy this land by paying one-third down and the balance within ten years. Suppose you select some $15 land. Pay $5 an acre down and you can own an eighty-acre farm for only $400. And the value grows with great rapidity.

Wisconsin the Dairy State

Wisconsin butter, cream and cheese command a premium in every market. Rich, thick clover and pure spring water, with a mild climate, make dairying ideal.

Four cows usually yield $200 a year in butter and $150 in beef. Clover grows so abundantly as to bring $10 an acre in the meadow. Sugar beets, tobacco and grain all yield the most plentiful crops.

BACK AGAIN—

—BACK TO THE OLD STAND

After Retiring for Almost Six Years, I Have Decided to Go Back Into the Harness—I Couldn't Resist the Temptation, Here's the Reason:

THE WESTBY CLOTHING CO., with $24,000 worth of the finest merchandise ever brought to the city of La Crosse, wanted to get out of business, Mr. Westby having retired some time ago. The remaining stockholders were Eastern clothing merchants and had no time to tend to it, the result is that they lost money, in fact, their goods were too good, too high priced. People hadn't got accustomed to such prices, the result is that I bought out the entire stock at practically my own price. I'm almost ashamed to tell what I paid for it, but let that be as it may. I'm going to sell the stuff at just one-half price. The stock consists of SUITS AND OVERCOATS ranging in price from $15 to $30. HATS from $2.00 to $5.00. FANCY VESTS from $1.50 to $5.00. FULL DRESS SUITS, SILK HATS, TUXEDO COATS, SMOKING JACKETS, BATH ROBES, NIGHT ROBES, PAJAMAS, etc.

Never before in the city of La Crosse has clothing that is good clothing been sold at the prices that this stock will be sold at. Now you know from past experience that when I say bargains it means something, and when I say goods at half price it means half price. I'm not going to sell the goods at the price I paid for them. O no! Not much, but I can sell them at half price and still make a little money. I'm not going to lose any money, nor you either, if you will go up against my proposition, not when you can buy a $20.00 SUIT OR OVERCOAT for $10.00, or a $2.00 HAT for 98c. Now I want you to watch this closely and if you find that I don't do as I advertise just let me know about it. This stock has got to go now, and it's up to you to move it. All I ask of you is to come and see, it won't require salesmen to sell this stuff—the prices will do it; no danger that you won't buy after you have taken a look.

"MY PRICES WILL FORCE YOU TO IT"

and surely you wouldn't rob your own purse in order to pay some one else double the price we ask. Now just think this over, but don't think too long, or you are apt to get left. Remember,

HENRY GEORGE'S VIEW SUSTAINED

Secretary Knox's Methods to Get Hold on China Are Criticised as "Benevolent Holdup"

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 27.—The note of criticism by Henry George, Jr., in his exclusive interview reported by the United Press Monday, on Secretary Knox's method of "benevolent holdup" in forcing China to accept the money of the American bankers as a portion of the railway loan has met with a responsive echo here.

It is pointed out by persons conversant with oriental conditions that it has heretofore been the policy of the United States to regard China as a potential, rather than an actual government. If, as is the announced policy of the state department, loans of the banking interests are to be encouraged it is regarded by many as doubtful whether the regency at Pekin can be held accountable for the payment of them. The powers had to step in during the Boxer revolt. The necessity of similar interference for the protection of the banking interests would follow in case the anti-foreign sentiment in China—which is far from being a negligible consideration at present—should develop to the peril of actual hostility. Whether the imperial government at Pekin is sufficiently strong to guarantee responsibility for the loan for the entire empire is doubtful. It is quite as doubtful that the interested bankers would trust their money without assurance that America's navy and army would protect it. Already one provincial council has protested against the loan.

Those who object to Secretary Knox's plans believe the policy heretofore followed of standing by China against cupidity of the powers and stimulating her awakening by the education of Chinese students in America would eventually bring about more effective commercial relations than could be attained by adopting the attitude of the other powers. In the meantime, the commercial conquest could be attained with greater dignity if left to the normal opportunity of American merchants by force to avail themselves of the opportunity offered by the open door without the aggressive paternalism now manifested by the state department in behalf of the financial interests who are seeking the present loan.

Might Involve Japan

Possibility of complication with Japan, which previous administrations have persistently fought shy of is also held out as an objection. The powers were all outwitted by Japan's coup in making the Manchurian agreement, giving her a strangle hold on China's railroad building. How soon the United States would be obliged to disagree with Japan, having once receded from the disinterested attitude of guarantor of the "open door" as consistently maintained by the late John Hay, is a matter for conjecture. The Pacific problem might easily become far more portentious than it is now. Officials of the state department adopt the point of view, in reference to these objections, that it is the function of the department to keep open channels for American trade and if necessary to employ force in protecting American life and property when threatened in foreign countries. It is assumed that this is sufficient reason for demanding a share of the Chinese loan and seeing that its guarantee is unshaken. It is held that the details are the business of the bankers themselves and that the state department is merely insisting on a treaty right in making representations to the regent.

ENORMOUS PROFIT FROM INVESTMENT

That the penny spent for a Christmas stamp sold by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association last year has resulted in an enormous profit on an insignificant investment, is proven by the health records of Wisconsin, as indicated by a bulletin just issued by the bureau of vital statistics of the census bureal. The mortality from consumption has decreased to a surprising extent because the people of Wisconsin are being awakened to the methods for the care and prevention of tuberculosis through organized effort, the report says. The prediction of medical men that consumption can be stamped out in Wisconsin in ten years' time is sure to be fully realized.

"Organized effort" means the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, which was formed by the leading medical, business and professional men who had no interest other than the saving of lives of those people who could not or did not know how to help themselves. They gave their time and money freely in a worthy cause.

But these comparatively few men could not be expected to be the sole support of the movement in a financitl way, so the association adopted the Christmas stamp idea of raising funds, penny by penny. In this manner even the poorest person, a class most affected by the white plague, could contribute his or her mite to help the fight.

The money thus raised has been and is being devoted to a most worthy work, as proof of which only the health records need be examined. But the work has only begun and more funds are needed. The association has therefore decided to again sell stamps, but of an exclusively Wisconsin design, better for the practical use of these stickers on letters and packages sent during the holiday season.

The campaign opens Nov. 29 and closes at midnight, December 31. Three million stamps must be sold this year. Every person in Wisconsin is asked to assist. Those who gave their unselfish and loyal aid last year have again come forward, but the ground is not yet thoroughly covered. Stanley A. Douglas, campaign manager, 411 Goldsmith building, Milwaukee, is appealing for a general support, especially in those places which could not be reached last year because of lack of facilities.

The rural mail bbox is a sort of postoffice on one leg.
